Provisional Contributory Provident Fund Rules (Bengal).

1. These rules shall come into force on the 1st April 1932, and shall apply to non-pensionable Government servants belonging to the services under the control of the Governor in Council, who have been admitted or who may be admitted hereafter to the benefits of Special Provident Funds sanctioned by the Government of India,

2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

- (i) Account Officer means the Accountant-General, Bengal,
- (ii) Leave means any variety of leave recognised by the Fundamental Rules or the Civil Service Regulations or the leave specified in the contract, whichever may be applicable to the subscriber.
- (iii) The Fund means the Special Provident Fund.

Payments towards Insurance Policies and Family Pension Funds.

3. Subject to the conditions contained in rules 4 to 10—

- (a) (i) subscriptions to a family pension fund approved in this behalf by the Governor in Council,
- (ii) payments towards an insurance policy may, at the option of a subscriber, be substituted for the whole or part of subscriptions to the Fund;

(b) the amount of subscriptions with interest thereon standing to the credit of a subscriber in the Fund may be withdrawn to meet—

- (i) payments towards an insurance policy;
- (ii) purchase of a single payment insurance policy;
- (iii) payments of single premia or subscriptions to a family pension fund approved in this behalf by the Governor in Council;

Provided that no amount shall be withdrawn to meet any payment or purchase made or effected more than twelve months before the withdrawal.

4. (1) If the total amount of any subscriptions or payments substituted under clause (a) of rule 3 is less than the amount of the minimum subscription payable to the Fund under the rules, the difference shall be rounded off to the nearest rupee (eight-annas counting as the next higher rupee) and paid by the subscriber as a subscription to the Fund.

(2) If the subscriber withdraws any amount standing to his credit in the Fund for any of the purposes specified in clause (b) of rule 3, he shall, subject to his option under clause (a) of that rule, continue to pay to the Fund the subscription payable under the rules.

5. (1) A subscriber who desires to substitute a subscription or payment under clause (a) of rule 3 may reduce his subscription to the Fund accordingly:

Provided that the subscriber shall—

- (a) intimate to the Account Officer on his pay bill or by letter the fact of, and reason for, the reduction;
- (b) send to the Account Officer, within such period as the Account Officer may require, receipts or certified copies of receipts in order to satisfy the Account Officer that the amount by which the subscription has been reduced was duly applied for the purposes specified in clause (a) of rule 3.

(2) A subscriber who desires to withdraw any amount under clause (b) of rule 3 shall—

- (a) intimate the reason for the withdrawal to the Account Officer by letter;
- (b) make arrangements with the Account Officer for the withdrawal;
- (c) send to the Account Officer, within such period as the Account Officer may require, receipts or certified copies of receipts in order to satisfy the Account Officer that the amount withdrawn was duly applied for the purposes specified in clause (b) of rule 3.

(3) The Account Officer shall order the recovery of any amount by which subscriptions have been reduced, or any amount withdrawn, in respect of which he has not been satisfied in the manner required by clause (b) of sub-rule (1) and clause (c) of sub-rule (2), with interest thereon at the rate which is levied on an advance from the Fund, from the emoluments of the subscriber and place it to the credit of the subscriber in the Fund.

6. (1) Government will not make any payments on behalf of subscribers to insurance companies, nor take steps to keep a policy alive.

(2) It is immaterial what form the policy takes, provided that it shall be on the life of the subscriber himself and shall (unless it is a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of his wife, or of his wife and children, or any of them) be such as may be legally assigned by the subscriber himself to the Secretary of State in Council.

(3) The policy may not be effected for the benefit of any beneficiary other than the wife of the subscriber or his wife and children or any of them.

7. (1) The policy, within three months after the first withholding of a subscription or withdrawal from the Fund in respect of the policy, or in the case of an insurance company whose headquarters are outside India, within such further period as the Account Officer, if he is satisfied by the production of the completion certificate (interim receipt), may fix, shall—

- (a) unless it is a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of the wife of the subscriber, or of his wife and children, or any of them, be assigned, by an endorsement on the policy in the Form set forth in the First Schedule, to the Secretary of State in Council, as security for the payment of any sum which may become payable to the Fund by the subscriber under rules 8 to 10 and delivered to the Account Officer;
- (b) if it is a policy expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of the wife of the subscriber, or of his wife and children, or any of them, be delivered to the Account Officer.

(2) The Account Officer shall satisfy himself by reference to the insurance company, where possible, that no prior assignment of the policy exists.

(3) If the policy is not assigned and delivered, or delivered, within the said period of three months or such further period as the Account Officer may, under sub-rule (1), have fixed, any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy shall, with interest thereon at the rate which is levied on an advance from the Fund, forthwith be paid or repaid, as the case may be, by the subscriber, to the Fund, or, in default be ordered by the Account Officer to be recovered by deduction from the emoluments of the subscriber, by instalments or otherwise, as Government may direct.

(4) Notice of assignment of the policy shall be given by the subscriber to the insurance company, and the acknowledgment of the notice by the insurance company shall be sent to the Account Officer within three months of the date of assignment.

NOTE 1.—Subscribers are advised to send notice of the assignment to the insurance company in duplicate, accompanied, in cases in which the notice has to be sent to a company in Great Britain or Ireland, by a remittance of five shillings, which is the fee for the acknowledgment authorised by the Policies of Assurance Act, 1867. The policy itself, bearing the assignment endorsed thereon, need not be sent to the Company, as insurance companies do not ordinarily require the production of the original instruments affecting a policy-holder's title until the policy becomes a claim.

NOTE 2.—Subscribers who proceed to Great Britain or Ireland on quitting the service are advised that under the English Stamp Law assignments or reassignments are required to be stamped within 31 days of their first arrival in those countries. Otherwise penalty will be incurred under the Stamp Act, and difficulties may arise when the policy matures for payment.

8. (1) Save as provided by sub-rule (2) of rule 10, when the subscriber—

- (a) quits the service, or
- (b) has proceeded on leave preparatory to retirement and applies to the Account Officer for reassignment or return of the policy, or
- (c) while on leave, has been permitted to retire or declared by competent medical authority to be unfit for further service and applies to the Account Officer for reassignment or return of the policy, or
- (d) pays or repays to the Fund the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund for any of the purposes mentioned in sub-clause (ii) of clause (a) of rule 3 and sub-clauses (i) and (ii) of clause (b) of rule 3, with interest thereon at the rate which is levied on an advance from the fund, the Account Officer shall—

- (i) if the policy has been assigned to the Secretary of State in Council under rule 7 reassign the policy in the first Form set forth in the Second Schedule to the subscriber, and make it over to the subscriber;
- (ii) if the policy has been delivered to him under clause (b) of sub-rule (1) of rule 7, make over the policy to the subscriber;

Provided that, if the subscriber, after proceeding on leave preparatory to retirement, or after being, while on leave, permitted to retire or declared by competent medical authority to be unfit for further service, returns to duty, any policy so reassigned or made over shall, if it has not matured or been assigned or charged or encumbered in any way, be again assigned to the Secretary of State in Council and delivered to the Account Officer, or again be delivered to the Account Officer, as the case may be, in the manner provided in rule 7, and thereupon the provisions of these rules shall, so far as may be, again apply in respect of the policy:

Provided further that, if the policy has matured or been assigned or charged or encumbered in any way, the provisions of sub-rule (3) of rule 7 applicable to a failure to assign and deliver a policy shall apply.

(2) Save as provided by sub-rule (2) of rule 10 when the subscriber dies before quitting the service, the Account Officer shall—

- (i) if the policy has been assigned to the Secretary of State in Council under rule 7, assign the policy in the second form set forth in the Second Schedule to such person as may be legally entitled to receive it, and shall make over the policy to such person;
- (ii) if the policy has been delivered to him under clause (b) of sub-rule 1 of rule 7, make over the policy to the beneficiary, if any, or, if there is no beneficiary, to such person as may be legally entitled to receive it.

9. (1) Save as provided by sub-rule (2) of rule 10, if a policy assigned to the Secretary of State in Council under rule 7 matures before the subscriber quits the service and before his death, the Account Officer shall realise the amount assured, and shall deduct therefrom the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy, with interest thereon at the rate which is levied on an advance from the Fund and shall place the amount so deducted to the credit of the subscriber in the Fund. The balance, if any, shall, at the option of the subscriber, be paid to the subscriber or placed to the credit of the subscriber in the Fund.

(2) Save as provided by sub-rule (2) of rule 10, if a policy delivered to the Account Officer under clause (b) of sub-rule (1) of rule 7 matures before the subscriber quits the service and before his death, the Account Officer shall make over the policy to the subscriber, who shall pay or repay to the Fund the whole of any amount withheld or withdrawn from the Fund in respect of the policy with interest thereon at the rate which is levied on an advance from the Fund, and, in default, the provisions of sub-rule (3) of rule 7 applicable to a failure to assign and deliver a policy shall apply.

10. (1) If—

- (a) the interest of the subscriber in the family pension fund ceases from any cause whatsoever, or
- (b) the policy lapses or becomes assigned, otherwise than to the Secretary of State in Council under rule 7, charged or encumbered, the provisions of sub-rule (3) of rule 7 applicable to a failure to assign and deliver a policy shall apply.

(2) If the Account Officer receives notice of—

- (a) an assignment (other than an assignment to the Secretary of State in Council under rule 7), or
- (b) a charge or encumbrance on, or
- (c) an order of a Court restraining dealings with—the policy or any amount realised thereon, the Account Officer shall not—

- (i) assign or re-assign or make over the policy as provided in rule 8, or
- (ii) realise the amount assured by the policy, or dispose of any part of any amount so realised, or make over the policy, as provided in rule 9,

Bengal Financial Rules, First Edition (Reprint), 1930.

Page 135—S. R. 47.—For Subsidiary Rule 47 and the sub-paragraph, substitute the following:—

(a) Pay bills should be prepared in Treasury Order Form No. 3 (Bengal Forms Nos. 2432, 2433, 2434 and 2435), separately for permanent and temporary establishments and also for those classes of Government servants for whom no establishment returns are submitted and no service-books are maintained. Against each post should be shown (except in cases referred to in rule 2 below) the names of both the substantive and officiating incumbents and against each temporary post should also be noted the sanction thereto. When pay is drawn for a portion of a month only, the rate at which it is claimed should be stated either against the name of the Government servant in the body of the bill or in a note at the foot of the page. The total of each section should be shown separately in red ink.

(b) In the case of establishments not on a time-scale of pay, Bengal Form No. 2433 should be used. In the first money column should be shown the full amount of pay and officiating pay claimed, and in the second money column the full amount of leave salary claimed whether drawn or not. In the third money column should be entered all compensatory allowances. In the fourth money column should be noted the amount claimed and held over for future payment.

(c) In the case of establishments on a time-scale of pay, Bengal Form No. 2434 should be used for the Police Department, Bengal Form No. 2435 for the Jails Department and Bengal Form No. 2432 for departments other than Police and Jails. The money columns are self-explanatory. Amounts withheld for future payment should be entered in red ink against the item concerned in column 3, 4, 5 or 6 as the case may be and should be ignored in totalling. In the “Remarks” column against the items concerned should be entered remarks showing how payments charges have been affected by death, retirement, permanent transfers, first appointment, etc. The foot-note and certificates printed on the form should be carefully perused.

(d) In an office which contains posts both on time-scale of pay and on graded pay, the pay may be drawn in a single bill in Bengal Form No. 2432.

Instruction 2.—Insert the following in the beginning:—

The names of all temporary incumbents whose pay is less than Rs. 50 a month and who do not hold substantive appointments under Government, and also.

Instruction 6—Page 136.—Cancel this instruction and substitute the following:—

When leave salary based on average pay is drawn in a bill, in which the leave salary is first drawn, it should be accompanied by a statement, attested by the drawing officer, showing the calculations by which the amounts drawn on account of leave salary have been deduced. If the calculation is based on pay drawn outside the Government servants' substantive section or office, a reference to the vouchers in, or the office from, which such pay was drawn should be given in the statement. If leave salary is based on actual pay and not on average pay, the drawing officer should attach to the bill a certificate that such pay is the pay of a permanent post held substantively by the absentee at the time of taking leave, and that the absentee was in permanent Government service on 11th January 1928.

Instruction 7—Page 136.—For the words “Second money column” in line 5, substitute “money column of the form concerned which is intended to show leave salary.”

Instruction 8—Page 136.—Delete instruction No. 8 as inserted by correction slip No. 25, dated the 9th May 1929.

Also memorandum No. 916R.G., dated the 26th April 1932, from the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, submitting the report of the Collector of Midnapore on the above petitions.

By notification No. 6424L.R., dated the 9th May 1931, published at page 566, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th idem, it was announced, for general information, that the estimate of probable expenses to be incurred in respect of the repairs, maintenance and works connected therewith of the Jokee Embankment in the Contai subdivision of the Midnapore district, for a period of fifteen years, commencing from the 1st April 1931, amounted to Rs. 13,215 at the rate of Rs. 881 per annum. As required by section 63 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (II of 1882), this estimate was published locally with a general notice calling on all persons interested to prefer such objections as they might think proper to the Collector of Midnapore against that amount being fixed as the total sum payable.

2. In pursuance of that notice, six petitions of objections were filed by Nibhanani Dasi, Ramanath Maity and others before the Collector. The petitioners generally urge that their mauzas are not benefited by the embankment. The Governor in Council has carefully considered the petitions and is satisfied that the petitioners' lands are benefited by the embankment and, therefore, rejects their objections.

ORDER—Ordered that a notification under section 63 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (II of 1882), fixing the sum of Rs. 13,215 as payable at an annual rate of Rs. 881 during the period of fifteen years, commencing from the 1st April 1931, by the zamindars of the estates benefited by the repairs, maintenance and works connected therewith of the Jokee Embankment, be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division for information and for communication to the petitioners concerned; also that a copy be forwarded to the Irrigation Department of this Government for information.

No. F. 34/32-G.—The following draft of certain rules which it is proposed to make in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 213 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923 (XXI of 1923), is published as required by sub-section (3) of the said section and in supersession of the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Education, Health and Lands, No. 1462, dated the 23rd July, 1930, for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 30th November, 1932.

Any objection or suggestion which may be received in respect of the draft before the said date will be considered by the Governor-General in Council.

DRAFT RULES.

1. (1) These Rules may be called the Life Saving Appliances (Pilgrim Ships) Rules, 1933.

(2) They shall apply to all Pilgrim Ships and shall come into force on the 1st June, 1933, from which date rules 6 to 9, and 16 and 17 of the rules published with the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department No. 1902 (Sanitary), dated the 14th October, 1910, shall be cancelled:

Provided that when a ship has at any time before the 1st June, 1933, obtained certificate A in the form required under section 154 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, for a pilgrim ship, the arrangements on such ship shall be considered by the Governor-General in Council on the first occasion after the 1st June, 1933, on which application is made for another such certificate and the Governor-General in Council shall thereupon require such improvements, if any, as are in his opinion practicable and reasonable to be made not later than the first day of June, 1935, and, subject to the making of the said improvements by the said date, the ship shall be exempt from any of the provisions of these rules which would necessitate the making of improvements in excess of those which the Governor-General in Council has required to be made.

2. Definitions.—In these rules unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(1) "Approved" means approved by the Governor-General in Council.

(2) "Buoyant Apparatus" means buoyant deck seats or buoyant deck chairs or any other buoyant apparatus excepting boats, lifebuoys or lifejackets.

(3) "Length" in connection with a ship means the registered length of the ship.

(4) "Special Boat-deck" means any deck on which boats are carried and of which the space required for the stowage of boats under rule 18 occupies half or more of the length of such deck.

(5) "Surveyor" means a Surveyor appointed under section 129 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923.

3. (1) (a) Davits.—Every pilgrim ship which carries more than 12 berthed passengers shall be provided in accordance with her length with the number of sets of davits specified in column A of the table in Rule 36.

(b) Every pilgrim ship which carries 12 berthed passengers or less shall be provided in accordance with her length with the number of sets of davits specified in column C of the table in Rule 36:

Provided that no pilgrim ship shall be required to have a number of sets of davits greater than the number of lifeboats required to accommodate the total number of persons the ship is certified to carry on the voyage on which she is proceeding.

Provided further that the Governor-General in Council may, where it appears to him necessary, having regard to the height at which boats are carried above the load line and to other circumstances of the case, require a pilgrim ship to carry in lieu of, or in addition to, davits some other approved form of launching apparatus or such arrangements for launching boats as may be, in his opinion, effective.

(2) Each set of davits shall have a lifeboat of class I attached to it and at least one of the lifeboats shall be a motor boat.

(3) If the lifeboats attached to the davits do not provide:—

(a) accommodation for all the persons the ship is certified to carry;

(b) the minimum capacity specified in column D of the table in Rule 36, whichever is less, additional lifeboats of Class I or Class II shall be placed on board to make up the deficiency, and the stowage of the additional boats shall be approved by the Governor-General in Council:

Provided that no ship shall be required to carry lifeboats of an aggregate capacity greater than is required to accommodate the total number of persons the ship is certified to carry on the voyage on which she is proceeding.

4. Buoyant apparatus.—If the lifeboats carried do not provide sufficient accommodation for the total number of persons which is carried or which the ship is certified to carry on the voyage on which she is proceeding, whichever number is the greater, approved buoyant apparatus shall be carried sufficient for those persons for whom accommodation is not provided in lifeboats.

5. If the master or owner of a pilgrim ship claims to carry on any voyage fewer lifeboats and approved buoyant apparatus than will provide sufficient accommodation for all the persons for which the ship is certified, he shall declare before the Principal Officer, Mercantile

Marine Department, before the time of clearance; that the lifeboats and approved buoyant apparatus actually carried will be sufficient to accommodate all the persons who will be carried at any time during the voyage. If the aggregate capacity of the lifeboats which he claims to carry on the voyage is less than the minimum capacity specified in column D of the table in Rule 36, the master or owner shall declare that the lifeboats alone will be sufficient to accommodate all the persons who will be carried at any time during the voyage.

6. Lifebuoys.—Every pilgrim ship shall carry lifebuoys of a type approved by the Governor-General in Council in accordance with the following scale:—

Length of ship in feet.	Minimum number of Lifebuoys.
Under 200'	.. 6 of which not less than 2 shall be provided with self-igniting lights.
200' and under 300'	.. 8 of which not less than 4 shall be provided with self-igniting lights.
300' and under 400'	.. 10 of which not less than 6 shall be provided with self-igniting lights.
400' and over	.. 12 of which not less than 6 shall be provided with self-igniting lights.

7. (1) Lifebuoy Lights.—Lifebuoy Lights shall be self-igniting, shall be provided with a means of attachment to lifebuoys, and shall release and open automatically.

(2) Ships fitted with bridges shall carry a lifebuoy with a self-igniting light attached to it at each side of the navigating bridge in brackets or cleats in such a manner as to admit of instantaneous release and to ensure their dropping clear of the ship's side.

Other lifebuoy lights required under these rules shall be distributed, attached to lifebuoys, to the Surveyor's satisfaction.

(3) All lifebuoy lights required under these rules shall be capable of burning in water for at least 40 minutes. Lights fitted with pricklers for opening shall not be accepted.

8. Life-jackets.—One approved life-jacket shall be carried for each person on board.

9. Power to accept alternatives.—The Governor-General in Council may, in general or in any particular case, accept any life saving appliance or arrangement in lieu of a life saving appliance or arrangement required by these rules subject to such conditions as he may impose.

10. Classification of lifeboats.—For the purposes of these rules lifeboats are arranged in the following classes:—

CLASS 1.

A.—Open lifeboats with internal buoyancy only.

The buoyancy of a wooden boat of this type shall be provided by watertight air-cases, the total volume of which shall be at least equal to one-tenth of the cubic capacity of the boat.

In the case of a metal boat an addition shall be made to the cubic capacity of the airtight compartments, so as to give it buoyancy equal to that of the wooden boat.

B.—Open lifeboats with internal and external buoyancy.

The internal buoyancy of a wooden boat of this type shall be provided by watertight air cases, the total volume of which shall be at least equal to seven and a half per cent. of the cubic capacity of the boat.

If the external buoyancy is of cork, its volume, for a wooden boat, shall not be less than thirty-three thousandths of the cubic capacity of the boat; if of any material other than cork, its volume and distribution shall be such that the buoyancy and stability of the boat are not less than that of a similar boat provided with external buoyancy of cork.

In the case of a metal boat an addition shall be made to the cubic capacity of the airtight compartments, so as to give buoyancy equal to that of the wooden boat.

C.—Pontoon lifeboats having a well deck and fixed watertight bulwarks.

The area of the well deck of a boat of this type shall be at least thirty per cent. of the total deck area. The height of the well deck above the water-line at all points shall be at least equal to one-half per cent. of the length of the boat, this height rising to one and a half per cent. of the length of the boat at the ends of the well.

The freeboard of a boat of this type shall be such as to provide for a reserve buoyancy of at least thirty-five per cent.

CLASS 2.

A.—Open lifeboats having the upper part of the side collapsible.

A boat of this type shall be fitted both with watertight air-cases and with external buoyancy, the volume of which, for each person which the boat is able to accommodate, shall be at least equal to the following amounts:—

	Cubic feet.
Air-cases	1.5
External buoyancy (if of cork)	0.2

The minimum freeboard of boats of this type is fixed in relation to their length; it shall be measured vertically to the top of the solid hull at the side amidships from the water-level when the boat is loaded.

The freeboard in fresh water shall not be less than the following amounts:—

Length of the boat in feet.	Minimum freeboard in inches.
30	10

The freeboard of boats of intermediate lengths shall be found by interpolation.

B.—Pontoon lifeboats having a well deck and collapsible bulwarks.

All the conditions laid down for boats of Class 1C shall be applied to boats of this type, which differ from those of Class 1C only in regard to the bulwarks.

C.—Pontoon lifeboats having a flush deck and collapsible bulwarks.

The minimum freeboard of boats of this type is independent of their length and depends only upon their depth. The depth of the boat shall be measured vertically from the underside of the garboard strake to the top of the deck at the side amidships and the freeboard shall be measured from the top of the deck at the side amidships to the water-level when the boat is loaded.

The freeboard in fresh water shall not be less than the following amounts, which are applicable without correction to boats having a mean sheer equal to three per cent. of their length:—

Depth of boat in inches.	Minimum freeboard in inches.
12	2½
18	3½
24	5½
30	6½

For intermediate depths the freeboard shall be obtained by interpolation.

If the sheer is less than the standard sheer defined above, the minimum freeboard shall be obtained by adding to the figures in the table one-seventh of the difference between the standard sheer and the actual mean sheer measured at the stem and stern post; no deduction shall be made from the freeboard on account of the sheer being greater than the standard sheer or on account of the camber of the deck.

The collapsible sides or bulwarks of Class 11 boats shall be watertight.

11. (1) Motor boats.—A motor boat carried as part of the statutory life saving appliances of a pilgrim ship, shall comply with the following conditions:

- It shall comply with the requirements for a lifeboat of Class 1, and proper appliances shall be provided for putting it into the water speedily.
- It shall be adequately provided with fuel and kept so as to be at all times ready for use.
- It shall be fitted with an approved wireless telegraphy apparatus and a search light.
- The motor and its accessories shall be suitably enclosed to ensure operation under adverse weather conditions and provision shall be made for going astern.
- The speed shall be at least 6 knots when fully loaded in smooth water.

(2) In fixing the volume of the internal buoyancy, and, where fitted, the external buoyancy, regard shall be had to the difference between the weight of the motor and wireless telegraphy installation and their accessories and the weight of the additional persons which the boat could accommodate if these were removed.

12. (1) Construction of lifeboats.—All boats shall be properly constructed, and shall be of such form and proportions that they shall have ample stability in a seaway, and sufficient freeboard when loaded with their full complement of persons and equipment. They shall be fitted and arranged to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council.

(2) The structural strength of the boats shall be to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council. In the case of pilgrim ships, launched on or after the 1st June, 1935, the strength shall be sufficient to permit of the boats being safely lowered into the water with the full complement of persons and equipment on board.

(3) Seating accommodation.—In all open boats, all thwart and side seats shall be fitted as low in the boat as practical, and shall provide seating accommodation for all persons the boat is deemed fit to carry and bottom boards shall be fitted so that the thwarts shall not be more than 2 feet 9 inches above them.

(4) Buoyancy.—Internal buoyancy apparatus shall be constructed of copper or yellow metal of not less than 18 ounces to the superficial foot, or of other durable material, and in open boats of Class 1 may be placed along the sides or at the ends of the boat, but not in the bottom of the boat. External buoyancy apparatus may be of cork or of any other equally efficient approved material: the use of rushes, cork shavings, loose granulated cork, or any other loose granulated substance, and the use of apparatus dependent upon inflation by air is prohibited.

(5) Sheer.—Open lifeboats of Class 1 shall have a mean sheer at least equal to four per cent. of their length.

(6) Pontoon lifeboats.—Pontoon lifeboats may be built of wood or metal. If constructed of wood, they shall have the bottom and deck made of two thicknesses with textile material between; if of metal, they shall be divided into watertight compartments with means of access to each compartment and shall be provided with at least two bilge pumps.

(7) All pontoon lifeboats shall be fitted with efficient means for quickly clearing the deck of water. The orifices for this purpose shall be such that the water cannot enter the boat through them when they are intermittently submerged. The number and size of the orifices shall be determined by the Governor-General in Council for each type of boat by a special test.

For the purpose of this test:—

(a) The pontoon boat shall be loaded with a weight of iron equal to that of its complement of persons and equipment.

(b) In the case of a boat 28 feet in length, two tons of water shall be cleared from the boat in a time not exceeding the following:—

Class 1C	60 seconds.
Class 2B	60 seconds.
Class 2C	20 seconds.

In the case of a boat having a length greater or less than 28 feet the weight of water to be cleared in the same time shall be for each type directly proportional to the length of the boat.

(8) No boat shall be accepted as a lifeboat the buoyancy of which depends upon the previous adjustment of one of the principal parts of the hull.

(9) All boats shall be fitted for the use of a steering oar.

(10) Marking of lifeboats.—All boats shall be permanently marked to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council in such a way as to indicate plainly their dimensions and the number of persons for which they are approved. Boats that have been properly marked need not be re-measured, unless there is reason to believe that the marks have been tampered with or are otherwise defective or improper.

(11) No boat may be approved the weight of which, when fully laden with persons and equipment, exceeds 20 tons and boats certified to carry 100 persons or more shall be motor boats.

13. (1) Number of persons.—The number of persons which a lifeboat shall be deemed fit to carry shall be equal to the greatest whole number obtained by dividing the capacity of the boat in cubic feet, or the surface of the boat in square feet, as the case may be (calculated as provided by rules 14 and 15), by the standard unit of capacity, or unit of surface, defined below.

(2) The cubic capacity in feet of a boat in which the number of persons is determined by the surface shall be assumed to be the ten times the number of persons which the boat is authorised to carry.

(3) The standard units of capacity and surface are as follows:—

Units of capacity.		Cubic feet.
Class 1A	10
Class 1B	9
Units of surface.		Square feet.
Class 2A	3½
Class 2C
Class 1C	3½
Class 2B

(4) The Governor-General in Council may accept a smaller divisor for pontoon boats of Class 1C and Class 2B, if he is satisfied after trial that the number of persons for whom there is seating accommodation in the boat in question is greater than the number obtained by applying the above divisor provided always that the divisor adopted in place of $3\frac{1}{2}$ shall never be less than 3.

(5) The number of persons obtained by the above rules shall be reduced:—

- (i) If it is greater than the number of persons for which there is proper seating accommodation, the latter number being determined in such a way that the persons when seated do not interfere in any way with the use of the oars, or
- (ii) if, in the case of boats other than open boats of Class 1, the freeboard when the boat is fully loaded is less than the freeboard required by these rules.

(6) Test afloat.—If the Surveyor is doubtful as to the number of persons any boat is fit to carry he may require the boat to be tested afloat with the intended number of persons on board.

(7) The Surveyor may limit the number of persons to be allowed in boats with very fine ends and in boats very full in form.

(8) Children.—Two children under the age of twelve years may be carried in place of one adult person.

14. (1) Cubic capacity of Open Boats of Class 1.—In the case of an open boat of Class 1 the cubic capacity shall be determined by the following formula:—

$$\text{Capacity} = \frac{l}{12} (4A + 2B + 4C)$$

l denotes the length of the boat in feet from inside of the planking or plating at the stern to the corresponding point at the stern post; in the case of a boat with a square stern the length is measured to the inside of the transom.

A, B, C denote respectively the areas of the cross-sections at the quarter length forward, amidships, and the quarter length aft, which correspond to the three points obtained by dividing l into four equal parts (the areas corresponding to the two ends of the boat are considered negligible).

The areas A, B, C shall be deemed to be given in square feet by the successive application of the following formula to each of the three cross-sections:—

$$\text{Area} = \frac{h}{12} (a + 4b + 2c + 4d + e)$$

h denotes the depth measured in feet inside the planking or plating from the keel to the level of the gunwale, or, in certain cases, to a lower level, as determined hereafter.

a, b, c, d, e denote the horizontal breadths of the boat measured in feet to the inside of the planking at the upper and lower points of the depth and at the three points obtained by dividing h into four equal parts (a and e being the breadths at the extreme points, and c at the middle point, of h).

(2) If the sheer of the gunwale, measured at the two points situated at a quarter of the length of the boat from the ends, exceeds 1 per cent. of the length of the boat, the depth employed in calculating the area of the cross-section A or C shall be deemed to be the depth amidships plus 1 per cent. of the length of the boat.

(3) If the depth of the boat amidships exceeds 45 per cent. of the breadth, the depth employed in calculating the area of the midship cross-section B shall be deemed to be equal to 45 per cent. of the breadth; and the depth employed in calculating the areas of the quarter length sections A and C shall be obtained by increasing this last figure by an amount equal to 1 per cent. of the length of the boat, provided that in no case shall the depths employed in the calculation exceed the actual depths at these points.

(4) If the depth of the boat is greater than 4 feet, the number of persons given by the application of these rules shall be reduced in proportion to the ratio of 4 feet to the actual depth, until the boat has been tested afloat with that number of persons on board all wearing life-jackets, and the test has proved satisfactory.

(5) The cubic capacity of a boat may be assumed to be the product of the length, the breadth and the depth multiplied by 0.6 in cases where it is clear that this formula does not give a greater capacity than that obtained by the above method. The dimensions shall then be measured in the following manner:—

Length: From the intersection of the outside of the planking with the stem to the corresponding point at the stern post or, in the case of a square sterned boat, to the after side of the transom.

Breadth: From the outside of the planking at the point where the breadth of the boat is greatest.

Depth: Amidships inside the planking from the keel to the level of the gunwale, but the depth used in calculating the cubic capacity may not in any case exceed 45 per cent. of the breadth.

In all cases the shipowner shall have the right to require that the cubic capacity of the boat shall be determined by exact measurement.

(6) If the oars are pulled in rowlocks, the bottom of the rowlocks shall be considered as the gunwale in measuring the depth of the boat.

(7) Cubic capacity of motor boats.—The cubic capacity of a motor boat shall be obtained from the gross capacity by deducting a volume equal to that occupied by the motor and wireless telegraphy installation and their accessories.

15. Deck area and capacity of pontoon boats and of open boats of Class 2.—In the case of pontoon boats and of open boats of Class 2 the surface in square feet shall be determined by the following formula:—

$$\text{Area} = \frac{l}{12} (2a + 1.5b + 4c + 1.5d + 2e)$$

l denotes the length in feet from the intersection of the outside of the planking with the stem to the corresponding point at the stern post.

a, b, c, d, e denote the horizontal breadths in feet outside the planking at the points obtained by dividing l into four equal parts and subdividing the foremost and aftermost parts into two equal parts (a and e being the breadths at the extreme sub-division, c at the middle point of the length and b and d at the intermediate points).

16. Size of boats.—No boat carried in compliance with these rules shall have a capacity of less than 125 cubic feet.

17. Weight of persons.—In the tests prescribed by these rules for determining the number of persons which a boat can accommodate each person shall be assumed to be an adult person wearing a life-jacket.

In verifications of freeboard the pontoon boats shall be loaded with a weight of at least 165 lbs. for each adult person that the pontoon boat is authorised to carry.

18. (1) Appliances for lowering boats.—The davits shall be of approved form and shall be suitably placed to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council. They shall be fitted on one or more of the decks in such positions that the boats can be efficiently lowered from them, and shall be so spaced and placed that the boats can be swung out with facility. Davits shall not be fitted in the bows of a ship, but they may be fitted in any other position in the ship, provided that the boats are not brought into dangerous proximity to a propeller at the time of launching.

(2) The davits, falls, blocks, and all other gear required for lowering the boats, shall be of sufficient strength to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council. In the case of pilgrim ships launched on or after the 1st June, 1935, they shall be of such strength that the boats can be lowered safely with the full complement of persons and equipment, the ship being assumed to have a list of 15 degrees.

(3) In the case of pilgrim ships launched on or after the 1st June, 1935, the davits shall be fitted with gear of sufficient power to ensure that the boats can be turned out against the maximum list under which the lowering of the boats is possible, or the davits shall be of the quadrant or other such type as will ensure the above condition being fulfilled.

(4) The boat's falls shall be long enough to lower the boat into the water with safety when the vessel is light with a list of 15 degrees. Life-lines shall be fitted to the davit spans, and shall be long enough to reach the water when the vessel is light with a list of 15 degrees. Hooks shall not be attached to the lower tackle blocks.

(5) Means shall be provided for speedily, but not necessarily simultaneously or automatically, detaching the boats from the falls; the boats placed under davits shall be attached to the falls and kept ready for service; the points of attachment of the boats to the falls shall be sufficiently away from the ends of the boats to ensure their being easily swung clear of the davits; the boats' chocks shall be of such construction and arrangements as shall be satisfactory to the Governor-General in Council.

(6) Where more than one boat is served by the same set of davits, if the falls are of rope, separate falls shall be provided to serve each boat but where wire falls are used with mechanical appliances for recovering them, separate falls need not be provided.

The appliances used shall be such as to ensure lowering the boats rapidly in turn.

Where a mechanical appliance is fitted for the recovery of falls efficient hand gear shall also be provided.

(7) The Governor-General in Council may accept in lieu of davits or sets of davits any other appliance, appliances or arrangements, which appear to him at least as effective as davits for placing the boats in the water.

19. Buoyant apparatus.—Approved buoyant apparatus, whether buoyant deck seats, buoyant deck chairs or other buoyant apparatus, shall be deemed sufficient, so far as buoyancy is concerned, for a person or number of persons to be ascertained by dividing the number of pounds of iron which it is capable of supporting in fresh water by 32, and if the apparatus depends for its buoyancy on air shall not require to be inflated before use.

The number of persons to be supported shall be limited to the number of feet in the perimeter of the apparatus.

Such approved buoyant apparatus shall comply with the following conditions:—

- (1) It shall be of approved material and construction.
- (2) It shall be reversible and shall be effective and stable when floating either way up.
- (3) It shall be of such size, strength and weight that it can be handled without mechanical appliances and, if necessary can be thrown from the vessel's deck on which it is stowed.
- (4) The air-cases or equivalent buoyancy shall be placed as near as possible to the sides of the apparatus.
- (5) It shall be marked in such a way as plainly to indicate that it is buoyant and the number of persons for which it is approved.

20. (1) Stowing of boats, rafts, etc.—All boats attached to davits and all boats stowed under boats attached to davits shall be stowed in such a way that—

- (a) they can be safely launched in the shortest possible time;
- (b) they will not impede in any way the prompt handling of any other of the lifeboats attached to davits or stowed under boats attached to davits or the buoyant apparatus carried under Rule 4 of the marshalling of the persons on board at the launching stations, or their embarkation;

- (c) even under conditions of list and trim unfavourable from the point of view of the handling of the boats as large a number of persons as possible can be embarked in them;
- (d) except as hereinafter provided, they shall be so stowed as not to require lifting before being launched and so secured that they will have the best chance of floating free from the ship in case there is no time to launch them.
- (2) With regard to the stowage of other additional lifeboats and buoyant apparatus the following provisions shall apply:—
- (a) They shall not impede in any way the prompt handling of the lifeboats attached to davits or the additional boats stowed under boats attached to davits or the buoyant apparatus or the marshalling of the persons on board at the launching stations or their embarkation;
- (b) the lifeboats may be stowed one above the other, or they may, subject to such conditions as the Governor-General in Council may impose, be fitted one within another, but where boats so fitted require lifting before being launched, they shall only be permitted if attached to davits operated by mechanical power appliances;
- (c) the lifeboats may be stowed in rows across a deck, bridge or poop;
- (d) as large a number of the boats as possible shall be capable of being launched on either side of the ship, either by means of approved appliances for transferring them from one side of the deck to the other, or by stowing in rows across the deck, or by some other equally satisfactory means;
- (e) means shall be provided to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council for lowering the lifeboats into the water in the shortest possible time.
- (3) Where a boat is stowed underneath another boat there shall be provided approved removable supports or other approved appliances, so as to secure that the weight of a boat is not unduly supported by the boat underneath it.
- (4) Boats may only be stowed on more than one deck on condition that proper measures are taken to prevent the boats from a lower deck being fouled by those from a deck above.
- (5) All buoyant apparatus shall be so stowed as to be readily available in case of emergency.
21. (1) Equipment for boats and buoyant apparatus.—Every boat which is carried by any pilgrim ship shall be equipped as follows:—
- (a) With the full single banked complement of oars and two spare oars, and a steering oar.
- (b) With two plugs for each plug hole, attached with lanyards or chains, and one set and a half of thole pins or crutches attached to the boat by sound lanyards. Plugs shall not be required where proper automatic valves are fitted.
- (c) With a sea anchor, a bailer, a galvanised iron bucket, a rudder and a tiller, or yoke and yoke lines, a painter of sufficient length, and a boat-hook. The rudder, the bailer, and the bucket shall be attached to the boat by sufficiently long lanyards, and kept ready for use.
- (d) With a vessel or vessels capable of holding one quart for each person that the boat is deemed fit to carry. Each such vessel shall be kept filled with fresh water, and provided with a dipper with lanyard.
- (e) With two batches, one to be kept in each end of the boat, and to be attached to the boat by a lanyard.
- (f) With a line securely hecktied round the outside of the boat.
- (g) With an efficient lantern trimmed, with oil in its receiver sufficient to burn eight hours; or with some other lantern or light at least as effective, approved by the Governor-General in Council.
- (2) In addition to the equipment prescribed in sub-rule (1), the boats shall be equipped with:—
- (a) A mast or masts, and at least one good sail and proper gear for each; but this does not apply to an approved motor boat.
- (b) An efficient compass.
- (c) An airtight case containing two pounds of biscuits for each person for whom the boat is approved.
- (d) One gallon of vegetable or animal oil, and a vessel of approved pattern for distributing it on the water in rough weather. This vessel shall be capable of being attached to the sea anchor.
- (e) One dozen self-igniting red lights in a watertight tin, and a box of suitable matches in a watertight tin.
- (f) 1 lb. of condensed milk for each person the boat is certified to carry.
- (3) All buoyant apparatus carried by a pilgrim ship shall be equipped as follows:—
- (a) With two paddles and one boathook or two paddles and boathooks combined attached to the buoyant apparatus by lanyards.
- (b) A painter of sufficient length.

(c) A line securely becketted round the outside of the apparatus.

(d) A self-igniting light and two signal flares of approved pattern, the self-igniting light to be attached to the buoyant apparatus by lanyards of suitable length:

Provided that on buoyant apparatus, designed to support less than twenty-five persons the paddles, boathook, light and flares need not be carried.

(4) All boats and buoyant apparatus shall be fully equipped before the ship leaves harbour and the equipment shall remain in the boat or buoyant apparatus throughout the voyage while the ship is at sea or shall be stowed in some convenient place where it will be immediately available in case of emergency.

(5) A motor boat need not carry a mast or sail or more than half the complement of oars but shall be provided with two boathooks.

22. Side ladders.—In every pilgrim ship approved rope ladders shall be provided at each set of davits.

Such ladders shall be of sufficient length to reach the waterline at the vessel's lightest sea going draft allowing for a list of 15 degrees and shall be carried in such a manner as to be always available for use in embarking the persons in the boats.

23. Illumination.—On all pilgrim ships in which the boat deck is more than 30 feet above the water, provision shall be made for the illumination from the ship of the lifeboats when alongside and in process of or immediately after being launched.

24. Life-jackets.—An approved life-jacket shall mean a jacket of approved material and construction, which is capable of floating in fresh water for 24 hours with 16½ lbs. of iron suspended from it, or any other approved appliance of equal buoyancy and capable of being fitted on the body. It shall be reversible and suitable both for adults and children. Life-jackets the buoyancy of which depends on air compartments are prohibited.

25. (1) (a) Lifebuoys.—An approved life-buoy shall be of solid cork or other equivalent material. It shall be capable of floating in fresh water for at least 24 hours with 32 lbs. of iron suspended from it.

(b) Lifebuoys filled with rushes, cork shavings, granulated cork or any other loose granulated material, or whose buoyancy depends upon air compartments requiring inflation, are prohibited.

(2) All lifebuoys shall be fitted with becketts securely seized, and at least one on each side of the ship shall be fitted with a life-line at least 15 fathoms in length.

26. Position of lifebuoys and life-jackets.—

All lifebuoys and life-jackets shall be suitably placed to the satisfaction of the Surveyor and so as to be readily accessible to all persons on board and their position shall be plainly indicated so that it may be known to those for whom they are intended.

Lifebuoys shall always be capable of being rapidly cast loose and shall not be rigidly secured in any way.

Life-jackets may be stored either in battens over the passenger decks or in boxes under the charge of serangs as well as in the buoyant seats when these are used. The contents of the boxes shall be clearly painted on them and illustrated notices in the vernacular shall be posted up in different parts of the ship explaining to passengers where to find life-jackets and how to use them. In addition, their use shall be demonstrated by the crew both during boat drills and periodically at other times.

27. (1) Exemptions.—Any lifeboat which forms part of the equipment of a pilgrim ship that was launched before the 1st June, 1933, and which has been inspected and approved by the Governor-General in Council before that date, may be accepted as equivalent to a lifeboat so long as it remains in good condition.

(2) Lifeboats which were ordered before the 1st June, 1933, in order to complete the equipment of ship, but which were not delivered in time to be inspected by the Governor-General in Council before that date, may be accepted as equivalent to lifeboats so long as as they remain in good condition:

Provided that such lifeboats shall not be so accepted, unless—

(a) they have been inspected, where this has not already been done;

(b) they would have complied with the requirements of the rules in force prior to the 1st June, 1933.

28. (1) When it appears to the Governor-General in Council, on the application of the owner of a pilgrim ship carrying more than 12 berthed passengers, that it is not practicable or reasonable to fit in that ship the number of sets of davits required by these rules, he may authorise under exceptional circumstances a smaller number of sets of davits provided that the number carried shall not be less than the minimum fixed in column B of the table in Rule 36 and that the capacity of the life-boats carried is at least up to the minimum capacity specified in column D of the table.

The owner of such a ship shall be required to satisfy the Surveyor by a practical test in his presence that all the boats carried can be launched in reasonable time, the number of hands employed in the operation not exceeding the total number of boat hands that will be carried on board under normal service conditions and each boat having, when lowered, at least two men on board and its full equipment.

(2) If it appears to the Governor-General in Council, on the application of the owner of any pilgrim ship that it is not practicable or reasonable in a particular case to require that pontoon lifeboats, made before the 1st June, 1935, and carried on ships of which the keels were laid on or before that date, shall have the minimum freeboard specified in these rules or the bottom and deck made in two thicknesses with textile material between, the Governor-General in Council may in his discretion dispense with full compliance with the rules in these respects subject to such conditions, if any, as the Governor-General in Council may impose.

29. (1) Manning of lifeboats, etc.—Boat's crews shall be carried in all ships to which these rules apply on the following scale, namely:—

One officer or superior seaman rating and at least two other hands who shall be trained in the operations of launching and handling boats for each lifeboat required to be carried under the provisions of these rules and in addition one officer and six hands to clear away the buoyant apparatus carried.

(2) A man capable of working the motor shall be assigned to each motor boat.

(3) The officer or rating placed in charge of each boat shall have a list of its crew and shall see that the men placed under his orders are acquainted with their several duties and stations.

(4) The duty of seeing that the boats and other life-saving appliances are at all times ready for use shall be assigned to one or more officers.

30. Lifeboatmen.—From a date to be notified by the Governor-General in Council each lifeboat shall be in charge of a minimum number of lifeboatmen holding certificates of efficiency issued under the authority of a competent authority. In order to obtain the certificates, the men must prove that they have been trained in all the operations connected with the launching of lifeboats and the use of oars; that they are acquainted with the practical handling of the boats themselves; and further that they are capable of understanding and answering the orders relative to lifeboat service.

31. (1) Muster List.—The muster list shall assign duties to the different members of the crew in connection with:—

- (a) the launching of the boats attached to davits;
- (b) the preparation of the other boats;
- (c) the equipment of the boats generally;
- (d) the closing of the bulkhead doors, etc.;
- (e) the mustering of the passengers.

It shall also assign to the members of the Stewards' Department their several duties in relation to the passengers at a time of emergency. These duties shall include—

- (a) warning the passengers;
- (b) seeing that they are dressed and have put on their life-jackets in a proper manner;

(c) assembling the passengers;

(d) keeping order in the passages and on the stairways and generally controlling the movements of the passengers.

(2) The muster list shall also specify definite alarm signals for calling all the crew to their boats and fire stations and shall give full particulars of the signals.

(3) Before the ship sails, the Master shall draw up and exhibit the muster list and the proper authority shall be satisfied that the muster list has been prepared for the ship and is posted in several parts of the ship and in particular in the crew's quarters.

32. (1) Drill.—In all ships to which these rules apply, a boat drill and a watertight door drill shall be held as soon as possible after leaving the original port of departure and thereafter once a week during the voyage when practicable, at which a number of the male passengers (e.g., the single men) when this is practicable shall be mustered apart from the others in a convenient place whence they can be readily requisitioned to assist in swinging out boats or rounding up falls, etc., if required. Such drills shall be recorded in the official log book.

(2) The Surveyor shall be satisfied, in each case before the ship leaves port, that a return has been devised and communicated to each officer of the ship for securing an efficient working of the boats. In all cases a police system shall be organised to the satisfaction of the Surveyor so as to secure obedience to orders and proper control and guidance of all on board in times of emergency.

(3) In carrying out the boat and watertight door drills the crew will, when practicable, drill in their life-jackets and arrangements shall be made, when possible, for passengers to see the crew putting their life-jackets on. Entries in the official log book shall state whether and when this has been done.

33. Emergency boat.—In all pilgrim ships which are required under these rules to carry two or more boats, an emergency boat shall be carried slung out and ready for action whilst the ship is at sea.

34. Boat-decks.—Special boat-decks shall be kept entirely clear of passengers, and in the case of shade-decks, bridge-decks and poop-decks, which are utilized for carrying passengers as well as boats, a space sufficient for the working of the boats shall be railed off; and where boats stowed on a shade, bridge or poop-deck occupy half or more of the total breadth of the deck, the whole of the space abreast the boats shall be railed off and treated as a special boat-deck.

35. Stowage.—The stowage of boats and buoyant apparatus in any pilgrim ship shall not be passed by the Surveyor as complying with these rules unless he is satisfied that every part of the life saving equipment is readily available.

36. Sets of davits and aggregate capacity of life-boats.—The following table fixes according to the length of ship the minimum number of sets of davits to be provided in pilgrim ships and the minimum aggregate capacity of the lifeboats carried on board in accordance with these rules:—

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is admitted on all hands and also widely known that the waqf properties in Bengal form the most important source of wealth created for manifold charities and for the welfare of the Muslim community.

Muslim zamindars have been ruined, Badshahi grants have been resumed and Muslim families have been broken up under the operation of the Law of Inheritance. The result has been the widespread and appalling poverty that stands in the way of progress of the Muslim community of Bengal to-day. The Government aid is too inadequate to meet the scope of its demand for education, sanitation and culture. Besides, the community is too poor to bear any further burden of taxation. It is, therefore, high time that ways and means should be explored to cope with the situation.

The number of Muslim moneyed men that can come forward with large donations to meet the crying need is also very small.

The community is condemned for this deplorable poverty, whenever its rights and privileges are pressed in the University, in the Councils and in other public institutions and the donations of the Hindu moneyed men are compared to the ridiculously small contributions coming from the Muslim community.

Nevertheless there are waqf properties still in existence in Bengal, which if properly administered and the incomes thereof spent on legitimate purposes for which they had been created, the present disgraceful position of the community will be greatly relieved and its honour and dignity properly vindicated. If the waqf properties are properly administered for the real beneficiaries only for which they were dedicated initiative, industry and enterprise will develop and the community's wealth will be increased. This Bill contemplates to regulate and channel the use of waqf incomes into legitimate purposes and protect the interests of the beneficiaries.

Muslim Law vests the waqf property in God. The Crown exercises the rights as representative of God. It is, therefore, the duty of the Crown to preserve, protect, maintain, administer and improve the waqf properties.

But unfortunately in Bengal the Crown has not exercised its right of direct control to waqfs, the Muslim Law has conferred on it. Consequently the mutwallis have had their day. They have made much of the waqf properties. Most of them enjoy the incomes for themselves and often treat them as their own private properties. The result has been many waqf properties have passed into the hands of third persons and to the members of other communities.

This Bill contemplates to recover the waqf properties and set up a permanent and responsible machinery solely entrusted to develop and regulate the incomes and expenditure of the waqfs.

As everybody's business is nobody's business, members of the Muslim community seldom come forward to call the mutwallis into account. And there are other obvious reasons as well. The remedy by way of mutwali suits for removal or accounting is protracted and most expensive. The present economic position of the community allows very few persons to risk the expenses and trouble involved in such suits. This Bill proposes to carry out the scheme of administration and recovery of waqfs through the waqf authorities which will take the place of the public with regard to the duty of supervision and control of waqfs and the mutwallis thereof.

The Act LXII of 1923 (the Mussalman Waqf Act) contemplates a remedy by way of calling the mutwallis into account to the District Judge. But the remedy is inadequate and the Act does not provide for the recovery and administration of waqfs. Besides, since 1923, the Act has not been put into operation in Bengal excepting that some attempts are being made by the District Judge of Rangpur. The District Judges have not yet been provided with the machinery to put the Act into operation. This Bill contemplates to cover much wider grounds than the Act XLII of 1923. It proposes to make the remedy real and effective by creating a new department under permanent authorities, to assert the rights of the Crown to the waqf properties and protect, maintain and improve them.

The Board of Waqfs will be solely entrusted to control and supervise the administration of waqfs. The Muslim public will not have to worry about litigation in civil courts as they have hitherto done, regarding waqf properties and the mutwallis.

The constitution of the Board has been framed so as to secure representation of various and wider interests.

Provisions have been made to make the department created under this Act self-support-

Care has been taken to see that the Muslim public should be able to take greater interest in waqf properties more frequently and with the least trouble and expenses.

Provisions have been made for appeals, reviews and references so that nobody may be prejudiced.

This Bill proposes to establish a machinery which will be self-acting and at the same time in no way inferior to the authorities, who have hitherto decided and dealt with waqf cases.

The Bill only seeks to secure a proper administration of waqfs and to recover properties which were dedicated in waqf in the name of God.

It is to be noted, however, that in setting up the machinery contemplated under this Act, Government will have to incur certain initial expenditure recoverable later on from the Fund to be created hereunder.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Melas and fairs have been the recognised agencies to spread out many infectious and contagious diseases in the Presidency of Bengal. It was only a few years back that a mela in the district of Nadia rapidly spread out cholera in all the bordering thanas and caused ravages in numerous villages. The necessity of making better provisions for the public health and sanitation with consequential medical and other needs have been long recognised by almost all the local authorities in the presidency, but beyond some, ineffective advices, the District Boards or municipalities or their Health Officers have been hitherto more or less helpless in the matter. Most of these melas and fairs fetch good income for their proprietors, but they have very little sense of responsibility in these matters.

With a view to afford the necessary sanitary and public health control, in the Health Officers which have now been appointed in all District Boards and in most of the municipalities in Bengal, they are being given the power to grant sanction for the holding of melas and without such sanction, no mela should be permitted. With a view to check any misuse of such power, there is provision made for applying to a Board against any order of the Health Officer, wherein the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman, the Civil Surgeon and one medical man nominated by the applicant shall sit to decide finally this matter. The Director of Public Health being ultimately responsible for the public health and sanitation in this presidency, ultimate power is also vested in him to permit any mela notwithstanding any order by the Health Officer or by the Board mentioned above.

On the breaking out of any serious epidemic endangering human safety, provision has been made in this Bill to move the Civil Surgeon and the District Magistrate to stop mela, should such a course be deemed necessary in the interest of public health. Other consequential provisions have also been made to make such order effective.

The settlement of public women in melas has come to be an acute social problem and provisions have been made to stop it and, if necessary, to eject such women from the melas and from the locality.

Provision has also been made to guard public health so that men with any infectious or contagious disease may not further spread out such disease by contact, with the sale of food or any other article and the notification of all such outbreaks in and around melas have been made a duty of all persons knowing the same. While this has been specially provided for operation in mela areas, it has been left at the option of the local authorities to permanently safeguard public health by applying this provision for all the year round in any or whole of such local areas. Ultimate power has been reserved in the Local Government to exclude the operation of the Act or any of its provisions from any cantonment, or any backward areas or to any other area where the operation of this Act may not be feasible for all practical purposes. A large congregation for a day on any festive or a religious occasion in any municipal area wherein nobody may in particular be responsible for the holding of such congregation or mela may be an instance in point.

It is hoped that with the growing sanitary consciousness of the people, the danger to public health will be realised by all to justify the placing of an act on the lines of this Bill in the Statute Book.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2588L.—27th August, 1932.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1932, with the Bill as amended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1932.

We, the members of the Select Committee of the Bengal Legislative Council, to which the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1932, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 22nd August, 1932, have the honour to submit this our Report with a copy of the Bill, as amended by us, annexed. All matter omitted by the Select Committee has been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matter inserted has been underlined.

1. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 18th August, 1932.
2. The Committee met on the 24th August, 1932, and finished detailed consideration of the Bill at that meeting.
3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered as to require republication.
4. We recommend that the Bill as amended be passed by the Council.
5. The following are the principal changes made in the Bill:—

Clause 3 (3).—It is considered that the intention of sub-section (2) of section 4 of the Act should be made more precise. In the proposed new sub-section (2) it is made clear that the tax shall ordinarily be paid by the year, but power is given to the Taxing Officer to allow payments for quarterly periods. It is also made clear that in both cases the tax must be paid in advance.

Clause 3 (5).—The words “for any quarterly period or periods” have been omitted as unnecessary.

Clause 7 (1).—It is understood that clause Fourthly in this sub-clause does not precisely embody the intention. The intention is to give priority to payments for completing works for which payments have been made in a previous year under this section. It is considered that a provision on these lines is not strictly necessary, while its practical effect is doubtful.

As regards clause Fifthly it is realised that the contributions to local authorities provided for in clause Fourthly of section 11 of the Act may exhaust the fund and leave nothing for expenditure on the works which come under the head Fifthly, including Public Works Department roads. It is felt, however, that there are not sufficient grounds for taking away the priority which the former at present enjoy over the latter. If it becomes necessary to amend the Act to enable contributions to be made to the Howrah Bridge Commissioners this can more suitably be done by a different form of amendment.

Sub-clause (1) of clause 7 has accordingly been deleted.

Clause 7 (2).—It is not obligatory on the Local Government to refuse contributions when a local authority has failed to expend or to allot for expenditure the required amount. The words “or reduce” are therefore unnecessary.

Clause 8 (1).—Experience has shown that it is necessary that the Local Government should have power to make rules to require that tokens and certificates be kept in proper and legible condition.

Clause 11 (4).—The words “over-all” have been omitted in view of the words “area to be measured by wheel base \times track” which occur at the end of Part II of the First Schedule.

The Committee of Management have the honour to report that throughout the year the standard has been fully maintained both as regards the number of exhibits in the collection and their condition. The garden again sustained a heavy loss in the death from verminous colic and enteritis of the female Indian rhinoceros, of which the mate, as reported in the last annual report, died from the effects of arsenical poisoning.

The specimen lived in captivity for 29 years and the Garden would have had no specimen of this important animal had it not been for the kindness of Her Excellency the Countess of Willingdon, who presented a very fine young male to the Garden, for which most welcome gift the cordial thanks of the Committee of Management and of the public are due to Her Excellency.

The following structural improvements were undertaken during the year:—

(1) Quarters for the First Assistant Superintendent.—This matter had been under consideration for some time, but for want of funds execution of the project had to be deferred. During the year under report the Overseer's quarters at the Kidderpore gate, which were lying vacant, were, after thorough repairs, additions and alterations, converted into suitable quarters for the Assistant Superintendent.

(2) Raising the boundary wall.—The boundary wall of the Garden along the Orphangunge Road and also between the Garden and the Observatory was found to be too low on account of the raising of the Orphangunge Road and the paddock, and experience proved that access over the wall was too easily accomplished. Portions of the wall between the Kidderpore gate and the Superintendent's quarters and between the Garden and the Observatory have been raised as necessary.

(3) Improvement in the rhinoceros enclosure.—Extensive improvements were made in the rhinoceros enclosure. The grounds were considerably raised and a cement wall 7 feet high and a trench 314 feet long and 20 feet wide constructed to prevent visitors from feeding these animals.

(4) The introduction of trench and wall in the paddocks in place of steel fencing having proved successful, it was extended by 294 feet. Advantage was taken to raise the adjoining low lands and to provide for proper drainage.

(5) The land lying in the western and eastern sides of the store godown, which was formerly insufficiently protected by fencing, has been enclosed by a brick wall 7 feet high.

(6) Extension of the pheasant enclosure.—To provide additional accommodation for the increasing number of pheasants, the existing pheasant enclosure was extended to the west by 36 feet.

(7) The terraced paths over the two bridges of the Garden required constant attention to keep them in order, and it was decided to dismantle them and substitute artificial stone flooring which should prove more permanent. This has been done.

Greater attention was paid to the general annual repairs to the buildings in the Garden, and repairs to iron and wood work were carried out as usual and painting to most of the houses was effected.

The grounds and gardens were maintained throughout the year in as good a condition as was possible. The grass lawns in front of the refreshment pavilion and the band stand were dug up, raked and rolled and doob grass planted.

The display of flowering annuals, specially the dahlias, was very successful and the Garden was awarded several prizes and certificates for exhibits at the flower shows held by the Agri-Horticultural Society of India.

The financial condition of the Garden, notwithstanding the fall in the entrance receipts owing to present economic depression, may be considered as satisfactory on the whole.

The following is a comparative statement of visitors and receipts for the last four years:—

Visitors.		Receipts.
		Rs. A.
1928-29—1,136,910	∴	78,333	0
1929-30—1,109,901	∴	75,609	3
1930-31—979,604	∴	66,082	13
1931-32—928,501	∴	62,141	6

A large number of children under four years of age and school children, attended by their teachers, were admitted free.

In addition, 48,542 persons visited the Garden on free days. A detailed statement of the number of visitors and receipts appears in Appendix B.

In consequence of the gradually diminishing gate receipts during the Fancy Fair days when the admission fee was one rupee per head, arrangements were made to keep the Garden, excluding the Fancy Fair, open to visitors who did not wish to visit the Fancy Fair, at the ordinary charge of one anna. The experiment proved successful and the turnstiles recorded 15,984 one-anna visitors while 6,071 people visited the Fancy Fair on 31st December 1931 and 1st January 1932.

The thanks of the Committee are due to those ladies and gentlemen who have added to the zoological collection, a list of which is given in Appendix C. Thanks are also due to those who kindly offered to present animals to the Garden, but whose offers could not be accepted either because the particular species was already sufficiently well represented or owing to want of accommodation.

The Committee also desire to express their thanks to the following Railway and Steamer Companies for kindly conveying the animals belonging to the Garden free of charge:—

East Indian Railway, British India Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Co., through Messrs. Mackinnon, Mackenzie and Co., and River Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., through Messrs. Macneill and Co., and Messrs. Hoare, Miller and Co., and Lionel Edwards, Ltd.

The Corporation of Calcutta sanctioned a grant of Rs. 26,233-6 to the Garden for the year under report, and the amount of the rate bills in respect of the Garden was adjusted against the sanctioned grant as the rate bills fell due. The Committee desire to take this opportunity of expressing their renewed thanks to the Corporation of Calcutta for their generous contribution to the funds of the Garden.

Thanks are also due to the Officer Commanding and Officers of the 1st Battalion, 5th Mahratta Light Infantry, stationed at Alipore, for permitting their regimental band to play at the Garden on Tuesday afternoons, free of charge, and to Lt.-Col. G. C. B. Buckland, Officer Commanding, 1st Battalion, 8th Gurkha Rifles, for his kindly allowing his band to play at the Garden free one day in the week from 18th December 1931 to 22nd January 1932.

The Committee are much indebted to those members of the public who send old and broken-down horses to the Zoological Garden, where they are disposed of under the most humane conditions.

P. L. BUCKLAND,
President.

E. H. MARSHALL,
Honorary Secretary.

I have the honour to submit my report on the condition and progress of the zoological collection.

The following comparative table shows the numbers of the various collections during the last four years:—

Year.			Mammals.	Birds.	Reptiles.
1928-29	342	1,196	173

The health of the animals was satisfactory and the high standard of the collection has been maintained by the addition of many interesting animals, and all available space is filled to its utmost capacity.

The male Indian rhinoceros calf kindly presented to the Garden by Her Excellency the Countess of Willingdon has filled a serious gap in the collection. Resolution on the Report on the Police Administration of the Bengal Presidency for the year 1931.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Police Department.

RESOLUTION—No. 4057P1.

CALCUTTA, THE 29TH AUGUST, 1932.

Read—

The Report on the Police Administration of the Bengal Presidency for the year 1931.

Mr. T. J. A. Craig, C.I.E., held the office of Inspector-General of Police throughout the year.

2. Eastern Frontier Rifles.—The Eastern Frontier Rifles maintained their reputation as a unit reliable in any emergency, and the work of the detachments sent to Chittagong district was invaluable. The Governor in Council congratulates the battalion on its efficiency and devotion to duty in trying circumstances. It is gratifying to note that the good service of Subadar Major Ganeswar Bhowmik Chatterji was recognised by the award of the Member of the Order of the British Empire.

3. Recruitment and Health of the Force.—The number of constables recruited was 2,159 against 1,899 in 1930, while the total number of vacancies at the end of the year was 56 against 146, 206 and 377 in the three previous years. The only force of additional police under section 15 of the Police Act was one of 120 men quartered in certain areas in Chittagong district. The additional police employed elsewhere at the commencement of the year were withdrawn, some on the expiry of the period for which they were sanctioned, others as a result of the Irwin-Gandhi agreement of 5th March.

An important addition to the Range Reserves of armed police was made during the year in the shape of a temporary force of 945 constables with their complement of officers, in order to meet the disturbed conditions which resulted from the civil disobedience movement. The additional force of 500 men mentioned in last year's resolution was merged in this force.

It is regrettable that the experiment of enrolling Namasudras in the armed branch has not so far given satisfactory results, but it is being continued.

Casualties showed a decrease under all heads and the percentage fell from 7.6 in 1930 to 5.7 in the year under review, the lowest figure recorded since 1912. His Excellency in Council notes with satisfaction that there was a marked drop in the number of resignations and that there was again an increase in the number of constables of three years' service and over, there being at the close of the year 15,969 such or nearly 500 more than in the previous year.

Admissions into hospitals increased from 13,244 in 1930 to 14,390 in the present year, partly owing to extra work and extra strain, partly to men having to be kept for prolonged periods in unhealthy places often in temporary and unsuitable quarters, and partly owing to indifferent housing conditions. It is regrettable that housing conditions cannot be improved at present, owing to financial stringency.

4. Discipline.—His Excellency in Council notes with pleasure that, in spite of the extra duties imposed on the force during the year, its discipline was maintained at a high standard. There was a marked decrease in the number of officers and men judicially punished as well as in the number dealt with departmentally. The number of complaints instituted against the police by private individuals fell from 368 in the previous year to 253, and only 18 cases ended in conviction.

5. Crime statistics.—There was a decrease in the number of cognisable and true cases, but the number of serious offences against persons and property showed an increase of 1,156. There were 1,212 cases of rioting against 1,608 last year, but the number of cases of murder, robbery and dacoity increased. This increase in serious crimes is attributed to the distress resulting from trade depression and to the civil disobedience and other movements which created a spirit of lawlessness among the people.

Thefts of arms remained at a high figure and showed a slight increase over last year's figure, the largest number being reported from Mymensingh.

6. Criminal Tribes.—The conduct of the inmates of the Karwal Nat Settlement at Saidpur was good on the whole, and the industrial school for children at Nilphamari continued its good work, but the subsequent placing and employment of the children still presents a very difficult problem.

7. Working of the Rural Police.—Efforts to ^{draw} them from their allegiance continued at least in ^{the} districts during the year, and economic and other causes combined too often to make the payment of chaukidars' salaries irregular, yet in spite of these adverse circumstances the rural police remained as a whole loyal. Several instances of bravery and devotion to duty are recorded by the Inspector-General, notably that of the dafadar in Dacca, who, though mortally wounded in arresting a notorious criminal, held on to his man till help arrived, and the chaukidar in Midnapore, who was killed while attempting to arrest a man in the act of committing dacoity.

It is disappointing to read that in spite of all efforts little real improvement was achieved in the matter of securing co-operation between the police and union boards in exercising control ^{Bengal} over known criminals and the patrolling of ^{selected} areas.

8. Revolutionary crime.—The Governor in Council has read with great interest and strongly recommends for perusal by the public the informatory survey of the history of terrorist crime in Bengal since 1907, which is set out in Part VII of Mr. Farmer's report. During 1931 terrorist crimes and activities were a source of continuous anxiety and no less than 67 outrages were committed together with 9 murders including those of Messrs. Peddie, Garlick and Stevens of the I.C.S., and Khaj Bahadur Ahsanullah, Inspector of Police. The seriousness of the position led to the promulgation in October of Bengal Ordinance IX of 1931, which extended the scope of the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1930, so as to permit of action being taken against members and helpers of terrorists' associations. To deal with the situation in Chittagong, where a considerable and very active body of absconders of the Raid Case remained at large, Ordinance XI of 1931 was promulgated on 1st December, which gave wider powers to the executive and also provided for more speedy trials of cases connected with the revolutionary conspiracy. To implement the Ordinance a body of regular troops and increased police forces were drafted into the district.

9. General.—The outstanding features of the year were the general spirit of lawlessness which was an aftermath of the civil disobedience movement, the activities of the terrorists and the widespread economic distress in the country. These conditions ^{placed} a heavy strain on the police. The Exc. Com. in Council takes this opportunity of congratulating the force on their devotion to duty, their fortitude in the face of danger and their cheerful endurance of hardship in trying circumstances.

It is regrettable to have to record that six members of the force, including that valued officer Inspector Ahsanullah of Chittagong, were killed and 140 injured in the course of the year in the execution of their duty.

10. Commendation of Officers.—His Excellency in Council has read with pleasure the names of the officers brought to his notice by the Inspector-General of Police and records his high appreciation of the valuable services rendered by them to the State during the difficult conditions of the past year.

Particular credit is due to Mr. T. J. A. Craig for maintaining the discipline and efficiency of the force at their usual high standard during a year of what the conditions of which, if ^{not} less fraught with danger and anxiety than 1930, were ^{very} far removed from normal.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Police, Bengal, the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council.

When any accident occurs in or about a mine causing loss of life, or serious bodily injury, or when an accidental explosion, ignition, outbreak of fire or irruption of water or other dangerous occurrence occurs in or about a mine, the owner, agent or manager of the mine shall forthwith inform the Inspector and the Warden by telephone or telegraph and shall also, within twenty-four hours of the occurrence of such accident, explosion, ignition, outbreak, irruption or other dangerous occurrence send notice thereof in Form VIII to the District Magistrate or to the Subdivisional Magistrate, and also to the Chief Inspector and the Warden.

15. If death results from any injury already reported as serious under Regulation 14, the owner, agent or manager of the mine, shall within twenty-four hours of his being informed of the death, send notice thereof to the District Magistrate or to the Subdivisional Magistrate, and also to the Chief Inspector and the Warden.

CHAPTER II.

PLANS.

16. The owner, agent or manager of every mine shall keep in the office at the mine an accurate plan and section or sections, properly inked in on durable paper, of the workings of the mine on a scale of not less than 100 feet to 1 inch, showing the working up to a date not more than six months previously. The name of the mine and of its owner and the scale shall be shown on the plan and sections and the magnetic meridian with date shall be shown on the plan. The plans and sections shall also show all shafts, drives, crosscuts, winzes, rises, excavations, and any tunnels and passages connected therewith. They shall also show the boundaries of the underground leasehold, where possible, and all important surface features within the boundaries, such as railways, roads, rivers, streams and reservoirs which overlie any part of the workings or any point within 600 feet of any part of the mine workings, also the general strike and thickness of the oil, gas and water sands with their dips at different points, and the known dislocations of the strata.

17. The owner, agent or manager of every mine shall, at any time on the request of the Chief Inspector or of any Inspector, produce to him at the office at the mine such plans and sections, and also, on the like request, mark on such plans and sections the then state of the workings of the mine; and the Chief Inspector or Inspector shall be entitled to examine the plans and the sections, and for official purposes to make or have a copy made of any part thereof respectively.

18. Where any mine or any considerable part of a mine is abandoned, or the working thereof has been discontinued over a period exceeding one year, the person who was the owner of the mine at the time of the abandonment or discontinuance shall, within three months after the abandonment or within fifteen months after the discontinuance of working, as the case may be, send to the Chief Inspector and to the Warden accurate plans and sections of the workings of the mine up to the time of the abandonment or discontinuance or a true and accurate copy of the same:

Provided that if a change of ownership occurs after the abandonment or discontinuance and before the expiry of the three months or the fifteen months aforesaid, as the case may be, such plans and sections shall be sent forthwith.

19. After the expiry of ten years from the date of abandonment or discontinuance of working in any mine or in any considerable part of a mine, or, where the consent of the owner of the mine for the time being has been obtained, prior to the expiry of the said period, the Chief

Inspector or the Warden may, on such conditions as he thinks fit to impose, permit any person having interest in the said mine or part of the mine to inspect the plan or section of such mine or part of the mine sent to him in accordance with the provisions of Regulation 18, and he may further, on such conditions as he thinks fit to impose, supply to any such person copies of the like plan or section.

CHAPTER III.

MANAGEMENT.

20. For every mine a book, to be called the Inspection Book, shall be kept in which Inspectors may record their observations. The owner, agent or manager shall write or cause to be written at the commencement of the book:—

- (a) the name of the mine,
- (b) the name and address of the owner of the mine and of the agent, if any,
- (c) the name and address of the manager of the mine.

21. The owner or agent of every mine shall appoint a competent person of not less than 25 years of age to be manager of the mine. If any question arises whether any person so appointed is competent to perform the duties of manager, the decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final.

22. One person may be appointed manager of more mines than one, provided that the size of such mines and the distance between them is not so great as to preclude the proper and thorough performance by such manager of his duties in respect of each such mine. The decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final on any question arising out of this regulation.

23. Personal supervision shall be exercised by the Manager. Where by reason of absence or for any other reason he is unable to perform the duties required of him by the Act, regulations, rules and bye-laws, the owner, agent or manager shall authorise in writing a person, whom he considers competent, to act as manager of the mine.

24. The manager of every mine shall appoint in writing such number of competent persons as will be sufficient to secure a thorough supervision of all the operations in the mine and the enforcement of the requirements of the Act and of the regulations, rules and bye-laws made thereunder. He shall assign to every such person his particular duties, shall on his appointment make over to him a copy of the regulations, rules and bye-laws which affect him and shall take all possible steps to ensure that every such person understands, carries out and enforces the provisions therein contained. Copies of all appointments made by the manager shall be kept in the office at the mine.

25. No person shall be appointed to carry out the inspection required by Regulation 48 unless he has attained the age of 21 years and has had sufficient practical experience of the working of mines and is competent to detect the presence of gas. If any question arises whether the person so appointed is competent to carry out the duties required of him, the decision of the Chief Inspector shall be final.

CHAPTER IV.

SHAFTS AND OUTLETS.

26. Where any part of a mine is so situated that there is any danger whatever of an irruption of water into the mine, adequate protection against such an irruption shall be provided and maintained.

27. (1) At every mine where more than twenty persons are employed underground, or where in the opinion of the Chief Inspector it is necessary, there shall be at least two shafts or outlets, not nearer to one another than 100 feet, affording separate means of ingress and egress available to all the persons employed in the mine.

(2) Proper arrangements shall be made for persons to descend to, and ascend from, the mine at each of such shafts or outlets. If apparatus is necessary, it shall be kept on the works belonging to the mine and shall be constantly available for use.

(3) The foregoing provisions of this regulation with respect to shafts and outlets shall not apply—

- (i) while a shaft is being sunk or an outlet is being made;
- (ii) to any workings for the sole purpose of making a communication between two or more shafts or outlets, provided that not more than twenty persons are employed in making such communication.

CHAPTER V.

TRANSPORT OF PERSONS OR MATERIALS.

28. At every shaft or incline where persons or materials are lowered or raised by means of machinery the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

- (a) A single linked chain shall not be used for lowering or raising persons in any working shaft or plane, except for the short coupling chain attached to a cage, skip, wagon or bucket.
- (b) Ropes used in raising and lowering persons and all cappings or sockets and shackles shall be of the best materials and kept in good condition. The working load shall at no time be more than one-sixth of the breaking load of the rope. A similar spare rope shall always be kept in reserve at mines where there is only one hoisting shaft.
- (c) There shall be attached to every machine worked by mechanical power, and used for raising and lowering persons, one or more brakes of sufficient power by themselves to hold the cage, skip, wagon or bucket, when loaded, at any point in the shaft, and a proper indicator (in addition to any mark on the rope) showing to the person who works the machine the position of the cage, skip, wagon or bucket in the shaft; and if the drum is not on the crank shaft, there shall be an adequate brake on the drum shaft:
Provided that in the case of a shaft or winze not exceeding 100 feet in depth or a shaft or winze in course of sinking so much of this clause as requires an indicator shall not apply.
- (d) Every apparatus on or in which persons ride in a working shaft shall be provided with a sufficient cover overhead, except—
 - (i) in that portion of a shaft which is being extended by sinking, or
 - (ii) where persons are employed at work in a shaft.
- (e) Every working shaft used for the purpose of drawing minerals or for lowering or raising persons shall, if exceeding 150 feet in depth, be provided with proper means of communicating distinct and definite signals from the bottom of the shaft, and from every entrance for the time being in use between the surface and the bottom of the shaft, to the surface, and from the surface to the bottom of the shaft and to every entrance for the time being in use between the surface and the bottom of the shaft. There shall also be proper means of transmitting distinct and definite signals from the top of every winding shaft to the winding engine. All signals shall be transmitted by mechanical or electrical means:

Provided that if electrical means are used electrical apparatus shall be of a type approved by the Chief Inspector.

(f) (i) The first three or principal signals shall be:—

One rap or bell	..	RAISE when engine at rest.
One rap or bell	..	STOP when engine in motion.
Two raps or bells	..	LOWER.
Three raps or bells	..	MEN ready to ascend or descend.
Three raps or bells	..	IN REPLY. Men may enter the cage or other conveyance.

Provided that an alternative code may be used where the written permission of the Chief Inspector has been obtained.

- (ii) Any other signals shall be in addition to, and shall not interfere with the foregoing.
- (iii) A printed copy of the code of shaft signals shall be posted at the shaft top and at every inset, and also at the winding engine.

- (g) Every working shaft used for lowering or raising persons by machinery, other than machinery operated by hand labour, shall, if it exceeds 150 feet in depth, be provided with guides to within not less than 100 feet from the bottom of the shaft.
- (h) Adequate stationary lights shall be provided and used during working hours:—
 - (1) at all places where persons have to work underground in the immediate vicinity of shafts,
 - (2) after dark at the tops of all working shafts and at all winding engines used for raising and lowering persons.
- (i) There shall be on the drum of every machine used for lowering or raising persons such flanges, horns or other appliances as may be sufficient to prevent the rope from slipping. The rope shall be securely fastened to the drum, and there shall be at least two turns of the rope on the drum when the cage, skip, bucket or box is at the bottom of the shaft.
- (j) Every cage shall be provided with catches or some other suitable contrivance to prevent tubs from falling out, and shall, if used for lowering or raising persons, be covered in completely at the top and closed in at the two sides in a manner sufficient to prevent persons or things from projecting beyond the sides, and shall be provided with suitable gates or other rigid fences and with a rigid hand bar fixed in a position where it can be easily reached by all persons in the cage.
- (k) The manager, or a competent person or persons appointed by the manager for the purpose shall, once at least in every 24 hours, examine the state of the external parts of the machinery and of the head gear, ropes, chains, cages, guides, and conductors in the shafts and other similar appliances of the mine which are in actual use, both underground and above ground, and if more than twenty persons are employed in the mine simultaneously, shall without delay write or cause to be written a full and accurate report of the result of such examination. Every such report shall be recorded in a pagged book to be kept at the mine for the purpose, and shall be signed and dated by the person who made the examination.

29. No person shall get on or off a cage, skip, tub or bucket used for lowering or raising persons after the same has been set in motion, or leave it until it has reached the appointed stopping place; nor shall any person ride on the top or edge of any cage, skip, bucket or box except when engaged upon work in the shaft.

30. No person, when ascending or descending a shaft, shall take with him any tools or other bulky materials, save when engaged in repairing the shaft or when otherwise specially authorised by the manager:

Provided that, in the case of tools only, the manager may, by general order, permit the same to be carried.

31. No persons shall ride in a shaft on, or against, a loaded cage, skip, bucket or box.

32. Every person, when at or about the top or the bottom of a shaft, shall obey the orders and directions of the shaft attendants on duty at the time.

33. Every windlass, whim or whip in use at a shaft or winze shall be provided with a stopper, lynch peg or other reliable holder.

34. The bucket, skip or any wagon in the cage shall not be filled up to such a height that any of the contents can fall out, and the bottom of the cage shall be kept clean.

35. When tools, wood, etc., with ends projecting over the top of the cage, skip or bucket are being lowered or hoisted, the projecting ends shall be securely fastened to the rope or bow.

36. Not more than such number of persons as may be authorised by the manager shall be allowed to ride in the same cage, tub, skip or bucket at one time and a notice specifying the authorised number shall be posted at the top of every shaft and at every inset in a shaft.

37. When the winding apparatus is not provided with some automatic contrivance to prevent overwinding, a point shall be fixed and marked on the indicator in such a way as to show when the cage or other conveyance is within a distance of twice the circumference of the drum from the completion of the wind; and when such cage or conveyance has reached such distance it shall not, if either it or the descending cage contains persons, be raised for the remaining distance at a speed exceeding three miles per hour.

38. In shafts exceeding 300 feet in depth, where persons are raised or lowered by machinery, suitable devices shall be fitted if, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector, such are required to provide against the overwinding of cages, skips or other conveyance or to safeguard persons liable to be injured in the case of an overwind.

39. At the top of every incline on which the haulage, not being endless rope or endless chain haulage, is worked by mechanical power or gravity there shall be stop-blocks or other similar contrivances to prevent wagons from running away. Additional stop-blocks or runaway switches, or some other appliance for arresting or diverting the descent of wagons in the event of a runaway, shall be fixed below the first stop-blocks at a greater distance than the length of a train of wagons. There shall also be provided and attached behind the ascending wagon or train of wagons a backstay, drag or other suitable contrivance for preventing the wagon or wagons from running back.

40. Where wagons are moved by hand no person shall permit a wagon to run uncontrolled, and, if sprags are necessary, a sufficient number shall be provided by the manager.

41. No person shall ride upon any tub, truck or wagon either underground or above ground without the permission of the manager.

CHAPTER VI.

MINE WORKINGS.

42. No operation shall, without the consent in writing of the Local Government, be carried out within a distance of 100 feet of the boundary of the area held under mining lease from the Secretary of State and worked in accordance with these regulations, and if any doubt arises as to the position of the said boundary the Local Government may prohibit the person working the mine from carrying on operations within a specified portion of the area held by him until such doubt has been removed by the decision of a competent authority.

43. The sides and roofs of all shafts, galleries, roads and working places shall be made and kept secure.

44. Except in cases where the geological conditions are sufficiently known and previous permission has been obtained from the Chief Inspector all mining operations shall be preceded by the boring of a pilot hole not less than thirty feet ahead of the face of the working. The aperture of every such pilot hole shall be fitted with a casing head, blow out preventer or other device cemented in place and so constructed and maintained as to prevent any blow out of gas or oil. If in the process of drilling pilot holes or of mining, oil or gas are encountered in such quantity or with such pressure as to make the continuance of operations dangerous to life or property, such work shall be stopped and shall not be resumed until the pressure has been released.

45. The permanent supports used within 200 feet of any shaft shall be entirely composed of non-inflammable materials.

46. The lining of every shaft and of every excavation which penetrates more than one sand whether such sand contains oil, gas or water or not shall be backed with cement or treated in some other way so that the percolation or migration of fluids or gas through or behind the lining is effectually and permanently prevented.

47. No winze or other working shall be made below the level of the floor of the lowest gallery in the mine until such precautions for the prevention of the collection of gas and the safety of the workers employed therein as the Inspector may prescribe have been taken.

48. A competent person or persons appointed for the purpose by the manager shall within such time, not exceeding two hours before the commencement of work in a shift, inspect every part of the mine and shall ascertain the condition thereof so far as the presence of gas, ventilation, roof and sides and general safety are concerned. The result of every such inspection shall be recorded in a book kept at the mine for the purpose.

49. A like inspection shall be made at least twice in the course of each shift, and at least once in every five hours during which the shift continues, of all parts of the mine, but it shall not be necessary to record the result of such inspections in a book unless the last inspection in a shift is the inspection required to be made under Regulation 48.

50. Every report shall be made by the person inspecting, either when underground or immediately on his return to the surface, and shall be a full and accurate report of the inspection, specifying whether or not, and where, if anywhere, noxious or inflammable gas was found, and whether or not any and, if any, what defects in roof or sides and other sources of danger were observed. The report shall be signed by the person who made the inspection and shall state the date and time of the inspection and the date and time when the report was written.

51. No workman shall enter or be permitted to enter the mine until every part of the mine has been examined in the manner prescribed in Regulation 48.

52. Every place where work is carried on or where men are stationed or pass shall be placed under the charge of a competent person appointed by the manager or underground manager.

53. If any part of a mine is found to be unsafe, all persons shall be withdrawn immediately from the dangerous area and all access to such place, except for the purpose of removing the danger or saving life, shall be prevented by securely fencing the full width of all entrances to the place.

54. No person shall work in any place other than a place in which he has been ordered to work by an official of the mine or by any person in whose charge he has been placed by an official of the mine.

CHAPTER VII.

VENTILATION AND LIGHTING.

55. An adequate amount of ventilation shall be constantly produced in every mine to dilute and render harmless inflammable and noxious gases to such an extent that the working places of the shafts, levels and workings of the mine, and the travelling roads to and from these working places, shall be in a safe state for persons working or passing therein. If the percentage of inflammable gas in the main return airway exceeds 0·6 per cent. all persons shall be withdrawn from the mine.

56. Means shall be provided on the surface for reversing the ventilation if and when required.

57. At least once in every week the quantity of air in the main air currents and splits shall be measured, and at least once in every twenty-four hours a sample of the air in the main return airways shall be taken and analysed, and records of the same shall be maintained in a book to be kept at the mine.

58. No lamp other than an electric safety lamp approved by the Chief Inspector for use in oil mines shall be used in a mine.

59. Electric lamps connected to a lighting or power circuit shall not be used underground in the return airway or at any point more than 200 feet from the bottom of the downcast shaft. If it is the intention to reverse the direction of the air current the supply of electric current to such lamps shall first be cut off, and the same shall be done in the event of a failure of the air current.

60. All safety lamps shall be kept in a lamp room and shall be in charge of a lamp-man authorised in writing for the purpose by the manager.

61. All safety lamps in ordinary use shall be numbered and such record shall be kept of the persons to whom the lamps are issued that the user of any particular lamp can at any time be identified from the record.

62. The lamp-man shall examine and lock securely all safety lamps before they are taken into the working for use, and such lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found to be in safe working order and securely locked.

63. The banksman or other competent person appointed by the manager for the purpose shall examine every safety lamp at the surface immediately before it is taken underground for use and shall assure himself as far as practicable from external observation that each lamp is in safe working order and securely locked.

64. No safety lamp shall be unlocked underground, and unlocking on the surface shall only be done at the lamp-room.

65. No person shall have in his possession when underground any unlocked safety lamp, naked light, match, smoking apparatus, or any apparatus of any kind for striking a light, and if it appears to any person that any safety lamp in his possession is defective or insecure he shall at once remove it from the mine and return it to the person authorised to issue safety lamps.

66. With the object of preventing any substance such as matches or smoking appliances being taken into the mine the manager shall arrange for the systematic search of every person immediately before such person enters the mine; and no person shall enter or be permitted to enter the mine until such search has been made. The method of search shall be one which has been approved by the Chief Inspector.

67. No person other than a person authorised by the manager to examine and lock safety lamps shall either himself take or give out for use any safety lamps.

68. No person shall wilfully damage, or improperly use, or by improper means extinguish, any safety lamp, and no one except a person duly authorised by the manager in that behalf shall unlock or open or attempt to unlock or open any safety lamp.

69. In any underground part of the mine where adequate stationary lights are not in use, every person shall carry a light.

CHAPTER VIII.

PRECAUTIONS TO PREVENT FIRE AND EXPLOSIONS.

70. Except with the permission of the Chief Inspector and under such conditions as he may think fit no explosives shall be used in or about a mine.

71. For power purposes electricity shall not be used underground except with the consent of the Chief Inspector and under such conditions as he may approve.

72. Air from air compressing plant shall be cleaned and freed from oil fumes before being used underground.

73. (a) An area on the surface round the top of each shaft or entrance to a mine shall be securely fenced so as to prevent the ingress of any persons except through gates. The fence shall not be placed nearer than 150 feet from the shaft or entrance.

(b) Areas on the surface used for the purpose of dumping sand containing oil shall be securely fenced so as to prevent the ingress of any person except through gates.

(c) Such areas shall be known as danger areas, and notices to this effect shall be displayed around each such area.

74. (a) No person shall enter any danger area without the permission of the manager.

(b) Within any danger area—

(i) no person shall have in his possession any match, smoking apparatus or means for striking a light;

(ii) no person shall light or cause or permit to be lighted or used any fire or naked light;

(iii) no inflammable material shall be stored;

NOTE.—Nothing in this sub-regulation shall preclude the dumping of sand containing oil in a danger area separate from a danger area surrounding a shaft.

(iv) except for the materials used in the construction of a temporary sinking derrick, no inflammable material shall be used in any building or other construction;

(v) all electric transmission lines shall be armoured or encased in pipes;

(vi) all electric motors shall be flame-proof.

75. The bottom of every shaft shall be kept free from accumulation of oil or gas.

76. All oil pipes whether below or above the surface shall be inspected daily and constantly maintained in an oil-tight condition.

77. Oil collected or released in the process of mining or by leakage from any pipe line shall be continuously collected and removed to the surface in receptacle with oil-tight and gas-tight covers or by pumping through pipe lines.

78. Main oil reservoirs shall be situated not less than 150 feet from any working shaft and not less than 30 feet from any travelling road or airway, and shall be shut off so as to prevent danger from fire.

79. Reasonable provision shall be made to prevent an outbreak of fire in the mine or the spread of fire. Fire extinguishers shall be provided and placed at important points in the mine. Fire extinguishers shall be tested and examined at intervals not exceeding one month. When in the opinion of an Inspector the provisions made for the above purpose are inadequate, he may require such additional provision as he shall specify to be made.

80. The owner shall maintain such specially trained safety staff and equipment as may from time to time be prescribed by the Chief Inspector.

81. Plans and specification showing the lay-out and dimensions of all oil and gas pipe lines and plant shall be submitted to the Chief Inspector, and the work of construction shall not be commenced until his sanction has been obtained.

CHAPTER IX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

82. (1) Every flywheel and all exposed and dangerous parts of the machinery used in and about a mine shall be kept securely fenced.

(2) Efficient guards shall be provided for such parts of any machinery and any electrical conductors as may be a source of danger.

83. Where it is necessary to prevent danger to the public every tank or reservoir shall be securely fenced.

84. If any person, when in charge of any machinery, apparatus or appliance used in or about a mine, observes any defect or dangerous flaw therein, he shall immediately report the fact to the manager, engineer or other responsible official.

85. Every person shall strictly comply with all lawful orders issued by the manager or such other official as may be empowered by the manager to issue the same.

86. No person occupying any position of trust in or about a mine shall depute another person to do his work without the sanction of the official to whom he is subordinate; and no such person shall absent himself without having previously obtained permission from such official for the term of his absence or without having been relieved by a competent person.

87. No person shall negligently or wilfully do anything likely to endanger life or limb in the mine, or negligently or wilfully omit to do anything necessary for the safety of the mine or the persons employed therein.

88. No person shall damage, destroy or improperly interfere with anything provided for or used in the working of the mine.

89. No person shall remove or pass through any fence, or remove or pass any danger-signal unless so specially authorised by the manager or an official empowered by the manager in that behalf.

90. No person shall sleep underground.

91. If any person required by these regulations or by any rule or bye-law made under the Act to make any report is unable to write, he shall be present when his report is written for him, and shall have it read over to him, and shall attach his thumb mark to it. The person writing the report shall also sign his name at the end together with a statement that it has been read over to the person for whom it was written.

92. The Chief Inspector may, at his discretion, and under such conditions as he may think fit, grant exemption from any of the foregoing regulations.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2824L.—5th September, 1932.—His Excellency the Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 18 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill with the Statement of Objects and Reasons is accordingly hereby published for general information.

THE BENGAL VILLAGE SELF-GOVERNMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1932.

A

BILL

further to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, in the manner herein-after appearing ; Ben. Act V of 1919.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Village Self-Government (Amendment) Act, 1932.

Insertion of new section 91A in Bengal Act V of 1919.

2. After section 91 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

“91A. An application for execution of a decree of a union court made after the expiry of three years from the date of the decree or of any order under section 88 modifying any such decree, shall be dismissed, although limitation has not been pleaded :

Provided that, where the application is made for execution of a decree or order to enforce payment of a sum of money or delivery of any movable property which the decree or order directs to be made at a certain date, the application may be made within three years from that date.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is no provision in the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, specifying a period of limitation for entertainment of any application for execution of a decree passed by a union court. It is considered that a period of limitation of three years is suitable in view of the fact that union courts were established in order to provide a cheap and speedy remedy in petty suits. Although in the rules framed under section 101(2) of the Act, a period of limitation of three years is provided, Government are advised that the rule is ultra vires and that it is necessary to amend the Act in order to put the matter on a satisfactory basis. It is, therefore, proposed to provide for this matter by a new section in the existing Act.

18. (1) If there is a reasonable doubt as to the amount of Court-fee leviable on any memorandum of appeal which an Advocate or a party desires to present, he shall apply to the Registrar, as Taxing Officer, for his decision as to the Court-fee payable, and the Registrar shall pass an order accordingly and fix a period within which the requisite Court-fee must be paid.

If the requisite fee is not paid within the period fixed, the case shall be laid before the Division Court for orders.*

(2) If the Stamp Reporter, on a memorandum being presented to him, finds that it has been insufficiently stamped, he shall make a note thereon as regards the deficiency and shall return it, with as little delay as possible, to the Advocate or the party presenting it. If the Advocate or the party refiles it having supplied the deficit Court-fees, within the prescribed period of limitation, the Stamp Reporter shall record a note to that effect on the memorandum which shall then be admitted.

(3) The Advocate or the party to whom a memorandum is returned under clause (2) may apply to the Registrar for time to put in the requisite Court-fee. On such application being made the Registrar, if he is satisfied that the insufficiency of the Court-fee was due to a mistake on the part of the applicant as to the Court-fee payable, may fix a period within which the additional Court-fee must be paid. In other cases or when the requisite fee is not paid within the period fixed, the Registrar shall lay the matter before the Division Court for orders.

(4) If a memorandum which has been returned under clause (2) and for filing which no time under clause (3) has been fixed is refiled, sufficiently stamped, after the period of limitation has expired, it shall be presented direct to the Registrar, and the latter may pass an order for the admission thereof or lay it before the Division Court for orders accordingly as, in his opinion, a case as to mistake as referred to in clause (3) has been made out or not.

(5) An application made under clause (3) or a memorandum of appeal refiled under clause (4) must be accompanied by an affidavit explaining the insufficiency, unless the insufficiency is due to a mistake which is apparent on the face of the papers filed.

(6) In the case of a memorandum which is not in proper form or is not accompanied by the necessary papers the Registrar may fix a period or such further period or periods within which such memorandum must be amended or the necessary papers supplied or may lay the same before the Division Court for orders.

In the Khasi and Jaintia Hills—Rs. 18— $\frac{1}{2}$ —22 per mensem.

NOTE 2.—The High Court approved of a practice introduced by a District Judge of having half-yearly examinations for peons in reading and writing; all who obtain the stipulated number of marks are entered in a register of selected candidates and are brought on the establishment as appointments fall vacant. This resulted in the appointment of a very superior class of men. (High Court Proceedings, March and September, 1883, Nos. 339 and 974.) See, however, Rule 35, Chapter I, Volume I, Civil, 1918, which lays down that no peon should be retained for the service of processes who cannot read and write and intelligently carry out the duties of a process-server. (Rule No. 1 of 1921.)

II. Insert the following as Rule 12 ibid :—

12. The following monthly salaries shall be allowed to peons employed in the service or execution of processes of the criminal courts in Assam :—

In plains districts—Rs. 13-1/3-16-1/5-18 per mensem.

In hill districts except the Khasi and Jaintia Hills—Rs. 15-1/3-18-1/5-20 per mensem.

In the Khasi and Jaintia Hills—Rs. 18-1/5-22 per mensem.

NOTE.—Note 2 to Rule 11 applies to criminal courts in Assam.

By order of the High Court,

No. F.681/32.—In pursuance of proviso (i) to sub-section (2) of section 101 of the Government of India Act, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to appoint the Honourable Mr. Justice Surendra Nath Guha to act as an Additional Judge of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for a period of one year, with effect from the 2nd September 1932.

RESOLUTION.

TARIFFS.

Simla, the 30th August 1932.

No. 341-T. (164).—In their Resolution No. 341-T. (161), dated the 25th July 1932, the Government of India announced that they had received an application from the cotton textile industry requesting the Governor-General in Council, in the exercise of his powers under Section 3 (5) of the Indian Tariff Act, to increase the duty leviable on cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture under item 158 in Part VII of the Import Tariff. It was further announced that the Government of India had decided to cause an immediate enquiry into the matter to be made by the Indian Tariff Board with the following terms of reference:—

To report whether cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture are being imported into British India at such a price as is likely to render ineffective the protection intended to be afforded by the duty imposed on such articles under Part VII of the Second Schedule of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, by the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1930, to similar articles manufactured in India; and, if so, to consider—

- (a) to what extent, if any, the duty on cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture should be increased and whether in respect of all cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture or in respect of cotton piece-goods, plain grey, only or of cotton piece-goods, others, only;
- (b) whether the duty should be increased generally, or in respect of such articles when imported from or manufactured in any country or countries specified; and
- (c) for what period any additional protection found to be required should be given;

and to make recommendations.

2. The Tariff Board, after a consideration of all the causes which have helped to depress the prices of cotton piece-goods imported into India since the passing of the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act of 1930, decided that the only factors which it was possible to take into consideration for the purpose of the emergent enquiry were depreciation in the exchange value of foreign currencies and the fall which had taken place in the price of raw cotton. The Board has found that the only country, of those which send cotton piece-goods to India, whose currency has depreciated in relation to Indian currency, as compared with the rates prevailing when protection was granted to the Indian industry, is Japan, and, after tracing the course of the rupee-yen exchange and of the prices at which cotton piece-goods have been and are being imported into India from Japan, the Board has reached the conclusion that the dominating factor in the decline in prices of these imports has been the depreciation in the value of the yen in relation to the rupee. This conclusion is, in the Board's view, supported by the fact that since last June a distinct upward movement in the price of raw cotton has taken place, while the extent to which the precipitate fall in the value of the yen has assisted the imports of cotton piece-goods into India is illustrated by the very large increase in the volume of such imports from Japan which took place during the month of June, those imports representing contracts made since February last, when the fall in the value of the yen below parity began. Figures obtained by the Board from the Calcutta Custom House and from leading importers at Calcutta indicated a further considerable drop in the prices quoted forward for Japanese cotton piece-goods. In arriving at the conclusions set out in its Report the Board has given full and careful consideration to the representations made by the Japan Cotton Spinners and the Japanese Cotton Piece-goods and Yarn Importers Associations and has made it clear that, while the effect of a depreciated exchange upon the prices of exported goods is of a temporary nature, it is capable, while it lasts, of inflicting serious injury on a manufacturing industry in the country of import. The Report further explains that in order to establish a case justifying the use of the powers conferred on the Governor-General in Council by Section 3 (5) of the Tariff Act it is unnecessary to show that goods are being imported at prices lower than the cost of production or than the internal sale prices in the exporting country, but only that the current prices of imported goods are lower than those on which the scheme of protection for the local industry has been based.

3. The object of the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act of 1930 was, as the Report indicates, not to give substantive protection to the Indian industry but to preserve the industry, or an important section of it, until the question of substantive protection had been considered and decided, a question into which the Tariff Board is now conducting an enquiry in accordance with the direction made to it in April last by the Government of India, and its present finding is strictly confined to the question whether the protection intended to be afforded until the 31st March 1933 is likely to be rendered ineffective. The Board has found that for the purpose as stated above the grant of additional protection to the Indian cotton textile industry has become immediately necessary, and, working from the basis of prices current in March 1930 and of the rate of duty then fixed by the Act, has calculated that, taking the value of the yen at Rs. 106 to 100 yen (the average rate during July) and making the necessary allowance for the fall in the price of raw cotton, the ad valorem duty on cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture should be raised to 53 per cent. in order to restore the measure of protection intended to be given to the Indian industry. The Government of India have carefully considered the Board's conclusions which have been briefly set out above and are in agreement with them.

4. In considering its recommendations the Board has expressed a doubt whether, in the particular circumstances, alteration of the rates of customs duties is the most suitable form in which to give the additional protection required and has made the suggestion that Government should examine the possibility of using the powers conferred on them under Section 3 (2) of the Tariff Act to raise the value of goods imported from a country with a depreciated exchange for the purpose of assessment to duty to such extent as may be necessary from time to time to counteract falls in prices. The Government of India are unable to accept this suggestion. Ad valorem duties are assessed on the actual value of the goods imported, as nearly as it is capable of ascertainment, and the object of the statutory provision cited by the Board is not to enable arbitrary valuations to be assigned for particular purposes but to provide a method of fixing the actual value, after a careful consideration of market prices, as an alternative to assessment on "real value" as defined in Section 30 of the Sea Customs Act.

5. Failing acceptance of the suggestion referred to in the preceding paragraph, the Board has recommended that the ad valorem duty on cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture, which was fixed by the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1930, at 20 per cent., and to which surcharges amounting to 11½ per cent. have been added for revenue purposes by the Finance Act of 1931, should now be raised to 50 per cent. and that the increased duty should remain in force until the 31st March 1933. In making this recommendation the Board has stated the view that the need for additional protection arises solely from the position created by the depreciation of the Japanese currency, and that, in view of the serious consequences with which the Indian industry is threatened by reason of the phenomenal increase in imports of cotton piece-goods from Japan, an additional duty on those imports is imperative. If, therefore, the Indo-Japanese Commercial Convention of 1904 is held to be a bar to any increase of the duty on Japanese goods alone, the Board recommends without hesitation that the proposed increase be applied to all cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture. The Board has made no recommendation in regard to the minimum specific duty on plain grey cotton piece-goods in the belief that Section 3 (5) of the Tariff Act confers no power to alter that duty because it is not higher upon articles not of British manufacture than upon articles of British manufacture.

6. The Government of India have carefully considered these recommendations and have also given full weight to the representations which they have received against any further increase in the duties on cotton piece-goods. They accept the Board's recommendation in respect of the ad valorem duty on cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture, but they wish to make it clear that the Indo-Japanese Commercial Convention of 1904 does not admit of the imposition in any circumstances of a higher duty upon goods of Japanese origin alone. The increased duty will therefore be applicable to all cotton piece-goods not of British manufacture. As regards the minimum specific duty on plain grey cotton piece-goods, the Government of India are satisfied that the Governor-General in Council has power to alter this element, equally with the ad valorem rate, in the duty with which plain grey cotton piece-goods are chargeable, for the two elements in the duty are not separable and the rate of duty, as a whole, applicable to articles not of British manufacture is higher than the rate applicable to similar articles of British manufacture. Having regard to the findings of the Board and to the great importance to the Indian cotton textile industry of the plain grey class of piece-goods the Government of India consider that any measure of additional protection which omitted this class of imports from its scope would to a large extent fail of its object. They have accordingly decided to increase the duty also upon plain grey piece-goods, and, following the general principle adopted by the Board in calculating the increase necessary in the ad valorem rate of duty, they have decided that the minimum specific duty should be raised to 5½ annas per pound. The increased duties will take effect immediately and will remain in force until the 31st March 1933 and will not be subject to the surcharges imposed by the Indian Finance Act, 1931, and the Indian Finance (Supplementary and Extending) Act, 1931. In announcing their decision the Government of India desire to emphasize the fact that in accepting the necessity for a purely temporary increase they have in no way prejudged the question whether the Indian cotton textile industry satisfies the conditions required to qualify it for the grant of substantive protection. That question is now under examination by the Tariff Board and will come under consideration by the Government of India in the course of the next few months.

7. The Report of the Tariff Board will be ready for publication on the 2nd September.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be communicated to all local Governments and Administrations, all Departments of the Government of India, the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics, the Central Board of Revenue, the Indian Trade Commissioners, London and Hamburg, the Secretary, Tariff Board, the High Commissioner for India, London, His Majesty's Trade Commissioner in India, the Canadian Trade Commissioner in India, all Chambers of Commerce and Associations, the French Trade Commissioner in India, Burma and Ceylon and the Secretary, Imperial Council of Agricultural Research.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2830L.—6th September, 1932.—In pursuance of the provisions of rule 20 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, the following Bill which was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 5th August, 1932, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto.

THE BENGAL CESS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1932.

A

BILL

further to amend the Cess Act, 1880.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Cess Act of 1880 in order to remove certain anomalies in the Act;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Cess (Amendment) Act, 1932.

Extension of section 52A of Bengal IX of 1880 to Chittagong, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions.

2. The provisions of section 52A of the Cess Act, 1880, enacted by section 13 of the Bengal Cess (Amendment) Act, 1910, are extended to the districts in the Chittagong, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions of the Bengal Presidency.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It has been held by the Calcutta High Court (I. L. R. 13 Cal., page 197) that the publication of the notice under section 52 of the Cess Act is a condition precedent to the holder of the lands held rent-free, being bound by the valuation roll prepared by the collector. In a suit for arrears of cess for rent-free land within any estate or tenure it has been found very difficult to prove publication of notice under section 52, as such notices are generally served by peons temporarily employed in the Cess Valuation Offices. It is indeed very difficult to trace the whereabouts of the peons who are entrusted with the publication of notices. Sometimes the costs of searching after the peons are not commensurate with the amount of Cess claimed in the suits. The result is, almost all the suits are dismissed for want of proof of the publication of notices under section 52. In order to obviate these difficulties section 13 of the Bengal Cess Amendment Act of 1910 was enacted for Western Bengal. But as the districts under the Commissioners of the Chittagong, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions were at the time administered by the East Bengal and Assam Government, the provisions of the said amendments are not applicable to those districts. Section 52A provides that whenever any notice was published under section 52, the collector shall sign a certificate to that effect, and such certificates will be conclusive proof that the publications have been duly made. For the ends of justice and also for the sake of uniformity of law, it is desirable that the provisions of section 52A should be made applicable to the districts mentioned above.

Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden and the Gardens in Calcutta and of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling, for 1931-32.

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN.

1. General.—It is seldom that gardens in this part of the world remain unaffected throughout a whole year by one or other of the natural calamities that make the care of plants a kind of business attended by risks unknown to others.

As only too common elsewhere the gardens are suffering from the prevailing slump with its attendant state of financial stringency, and when to shortage of funds is added the short temper of nature bringing destruction on man's efforts to display her beauty, a gardener's lot, like that of one better advertised, is not always a very happy one. But like his the duty is to be done and a year's account of it is now due.

Although heavy rain falling late interfered with the time of planting of the cold weather annuals, and a long period of drought with high temperature towards the end of the year left the bedded display of these far below normal, no extensive damage resulted to the stocks of potted annuals intended for staging in the more frequented avenues and centralised portions of the garden, so that, in this respect, and by the methods now adopted for cold weather displays, no very marked deterioration was apparent. At its worst the failure of this class of plant to reach a degree of admired excellence merely detracts from appearances and leaves the garden temporarily less attractive than it would otherwise be. It has no lasting effect, for the beauty, while fleeting, is restorable year by year to the degree that efforts to care for it are made. It is the advent of calamity that takes years to make good that the gardener dreads. In its most destructive form we have the cyclone, and to this cause we have regretfully to report the loss during the year of some valuable and almost unique garden specimens that have been the admiration of visitors for over the best part of a century. Among others, and itself the greatest, was the loss of one of the magnificent specimens of Ficus altissima that served as shade and shelter to public at the ghat entrance to the garden. While it is not completely destroyed, it is doubtful whether the attempts that have been made to save the portion that remains will be successful. The garden could have lost a hundred other specimens that would, all told, have affected the scenic effect less than the loss of this, and from the point of view of visitors there were few trees here that offered a shade more needed or at a more convenient place. One is exercised now with the decision as to whether it should be removed altogether to make place for another specimen, for the stateliness of this entrance can henceforth never be what it was.

Repeated reference has been made in reports of late years to the dying condition of the Banyan tree, a central attraction for all visitors to the garden. The main trunk with its largest adjacent branches is gone but the vitality of the periphery remains and the tree is still spreading although in detached portions. The vitality of this specimen is surprising; the circular road round it has had to be extended outwards to make room for new rooted supports to the younger branches. It is still good, possibly for years, and though closer examination leaves one with the feeling that it has lost some of its unique character, no evidence of the lack of unity caused by decay of the central portion is apparent from the outside.

In pursuance of the general policy of making use to the best advantage to the garden as a whole of the funds made available, part of the garden provision has again been diverted to the repair and renovation of roads. These works are intended ultimately for departments specialising in them, but as hitherto it has not been found possible to finance this transfer, and as long neglected roads impair to the extent they do both the appearance and utility of the garden, power to distribute the provision made to the best all round advantage has been freely exercised. But the gardens are living to some extent on capital as is plainly evident from the state of its tanks. In the exercise of such appropriation some of the roads have benefited, but the requirements of modern traffic were not in mind when they were originally constructed and the best that can be had from our modest budget provides but a fleeting improvement.

The roads receiving attention include the Wallich Avenue, the Banyan Tree Circle, the Roxburgh Avenue, the Scott Avenue and the Wight Avenue. These have been tackled because the increased volume and speed of motor traffic along them, with its attendant clouds of dust, was markedly injuring some of the more delicate garden collections, and, besides, was a cause for complaint from garden foot visitors here for pleasure or recreation or on educational pursuit.

The position that these gardens occupy as a haunt for such pursuits is perhaps not so fully appreciated as it ought to be. For the well-to-do, a club, a sports ground or a golf course forms a centre where the socially minded meets his fellow men, where views are exchanged and friendships made and where the anxieties of business and of life are for a time forgotten. In a sense these are functions that the Botanic Garden serves for an Indian population. If it is less select in its membership the Botanic Garden yet forms a sort of meeting ground for that large and interested cosmopolitan crowd of Indians who make daily use of its shady retreats for social intercourse, for recreation and for contemplation. No one who visits these gardens, and especially on holidays, will fail to be struck with the bearing and appearance of happy contentment that characterises its thousands of Indian visitors. The Botanic Gardens vie with the Zoological Society's Garden and with the Indian Museum as an attraction to the crowds of Indians from other parts who visit Calcutta every year. Whether or not it be that the poorest Indian family possesses its patch of ground somewhere, the people of this country are notoriously fond of their gardens, and if there is one institution more than another that can count on a more lively interest being taken in it in years to come this is the Botanic Garden. That with others it must suffer in the present unhappy state of the country's finances goes without saying, but it will do no harm—it may do good when the axe of further retrenchment is being sharpened—to present the gardens in their true setting, that of an institution whose attractions appeal particularly to our Indian friends and remain patronised chiefly by them, an institution whose well-being they at least have at heart.

Of recent years the costs of some prominent improvements to the garden have been met by way of return for privileges accorded to public companies. But for the concession to use the garden as a short cut for mains to the industrial area west of us we might still be without an electric supply, and the necessity of a building now found indispensable over the Calcutta Electric Supply's tunnel on the right bank, dictates the advisability of combining garden's with the same company's requirements. Plans have been drawn up for a building to serve as a public kiosk in addition to a tunnel exit, and in the combination there is good hope for a belief that a long felt public need will be satisfied before another year is out. When completed it is proposed to lease out the kiosk to some firm of standing who will be asked to cater for all classes of garden visitors, and one can think of no scheme better calculated to enhance the garden's claim to a visit. With the lease would go liability for the provision of drinking water as well as light refreshments, and lawns bordered with potted annuals and adjoining shade would be specially cared for to add to the attractiveness of the locality. While the use of a site as exit for this tunnel—an enterprise now happily crowned in success—does not detract in any way from the amenities of the garden, it is excellent to think that the part played by the gardens in promoting the interests of the company should so soon have its reward in this form of co-operation.

The collections were maintained and added to as facilities existed. Seeds of flowering annuals were obtained at a cheaper rate than has been charged in the past. Germination was fairly good and although individual blooms failed to attain the excellence of those of previous years, a good effect was obtained by mass formation. It is questionable indeed whether the great difference in price justifies us in going in for highly selected seed stock. If the intention is to grow blooms for flower show purposes then the best seed is indispensable, but this year we gained a result, so far as ordinary garden purposes were concerned, by no means so far behind that previously attained, and in any case we had to cut our coat to our cloth and make do.

The plant houses were well maintained. The beds were dressed with liberal quantities of leaf mould and an improvement was noticeable in the growth of the plants. In the palm houses more consideration and attention is being given to the delicate and rarer kinds of palms. Species which grow well in the open garden have on occasions been interplanted with the more delicate shade loving kinds, but with increase of stock of the latter the need for this no longer exists, and gradual elimination of those which rightly find their place in the open will leave room for a richer variety of the rarer or more delicate species. The process can only be gradual for it would not make for improvement to see wide gaps occupied by unsuitable sizes of even the rarer plants. Other foliage plants are well represented and there was a good collection of the different kinds.

The show of Orchid plants in flower, which some years ago was a feature of the garden, was limited to a few of the commoner varieties. Retrenchment has deprived us of the services of plant and seed collectors on whom we were wont to depend for these, so that the loss of this attraction, one much appreciated by the visiting public, was beyond our ability to make good at short notice. But the display is too valuable to be lost to the garden permanently, and arrangements are contemplated to make good the collection in one way or another. There are several well-known Orchid fanciers about Calcutta with whom we might get in touch with a view to exchanging such material as we can spare for what they may be willing to give. If any of them see this and are willing to help, the Curator would reciprocate in any way open to him, and garden authorities would be grateful for this interest.

The general appearance of the garden lawns and open spaces was fairly well maintained. No permanent disfigurement to the garden results through these being left for periods vacant, and if they were not as tidy as they have been in the past the worst this signifies is something of a passing nature. The saving resulting from the smaller attention paid was considered better spent in other directions. The advantage that the motor tractor brings to this matter of garden conservancy cannot be overestimated. It is not popular with the grass cutters and others interested, but the speed with which it gets through work has given it a place apart amongst garden machinery and it has already repaid itself many times over. With an attachment for use to drive watering pumps it should prove a still greater boon in the coming year.

The distribution of seeds which forms a regular feature of garden work comprised 236 packets and 311 pounds. Never a day passes without requests for one kind or other, and all applications for seeds of an economic kind that cannot be dealt with by the Forest and Agricultural Departments usually find their way here. Often the difficulty and expense of collection is beyond us, but there must be few Horticultural, Agricultural and Forest Institutions in the world that have not at one time or another benefited by the services rendered.

Living plants for roadsides and other purposes to the number of 15,042 were distributed to District Boards, Educational Institutions and Government bodies and a certain number received in addition to liberal quantities of seed. The outstanding importation was a large consignment of over half a ton of Aleurites Fordii, the Tung Oil yielding species. The interest taken in this plant of recent years has now extended to India. The tree, a Chinese species, is extensively grown in the Southern State of America, and the services of Kew have been given to securing its now wider distribution. Very many firms in India, especially those interested in tea growing, have undertaken to experiment with it, and records already received from some quarters show that fair germination has been obtained. The Botanic Gardens were approached for service in connection with the Indian distribution and were happy to be able to promote the enterprise. A small packet of the seed was retained for garden experiment as it was feared that the long voyage had affected its viability. The fears happily proved unfounded and a batch of the young plants is now under observation with us. A near botanical relative, Aleurites molluccana, has been in cultivation at Sibpur for many years and grows well here. The Tung plant, however, would seem to require a drier climate than lower Bengal can offer, and lengthy experiment alone will prove the possibilities of its cultivation. Tung Oil is greatly in demand in commerce as a quick drying oil for the paint trade.

Seeds of other interesting and new plants have been received but these are still in the nurseries or seedlings stage and their suitability to India or this climate is not determined. Two plants of the Elephant's Foot, Testudinaria Elephantipes, were successfully imported from Africa through the aid of the South African Department of Agriculture. Both are doing well. The services of the Department in arranging for a consignment of warden cases with rooted mango stock for export to South Africa have, unfortunately, not been crowned with much success. Selected stock left Bombay in good condition but must have had bad treatment on the way, for only a small part of the consignment arrived in good condition at Durban. The danger to plants under transport is always feared but the loss is none the less regrettable even if it forms only one more instance of the difficulty of distributing living plant material in the tropics.

A total of 102 plants were planted out in the garden and given permanent numbers during the year. Some ornamental planting to improve the entrance was done at the Baugyan Gate; the blanks in the row of Chrysalidocarpus by the side of the Palmyra Avenue were filled in and other planting done to replace deaths.

2. Herbarium and Library.—Routine work of the herbarium went on as usual under the four main departments of activity, namely, identification, acquisition, loan of specimens and distribution.

The miscellaneous work of examination of drug-producing plants, such as opium and ganja, for legal cases calls occasionally for the interruption of more normal duties. The total number of phanerogamic species identified during the year by the herbarium staff proper amounts to 1,100. These have come from the same wide range of correspondents as formerly.

The Curator's special interest in the Algae as a group of plants is gaining recognition and involves increased work on account of enquiries made regarding them and their economic bearing. Algological work is of considerable importance economically, for the presence of these organisms in town water-supplies and their relation to pisciculture gives them an importance that brings their treatment at once within the scope of the specialist. Some aquatic members of the Algae, although a group of plants of worldwide distribution, demand special conditions as to light, nature and temperature of water and association with other organisms for their proper development; and while the presence of some of them may even be beneficial, there are others that cause considerable damage and nuisance to those responsible for the purity of water-supplies.

The Calcutta tanks that supply the city's water present a special algological problem to the practical solution of which a knowledge of the organisms present becomes, therefore, indispensable, and the specialisation of the Curator in this field has not been long in finding its immediate application. In common with other water vegetation the Algae themselves bear also on the question of suitability of breeding grounds for the malarial mosquito. For the field engineer or malariologist, whose energies are directed to combat the disease by the elimination or sterilisation of breeding grounds, an easy means to recognise the commoner types of water plants has been a want felt for some time. The expense of producing an easy illustrated guide for such workers is out of the question for us, but the question of finance is engaging the attention of the Medical Department and, if this be settled, the herbarium staff has promised to do the descriptions and illustrations for a suitable brochure. It would naturally limit itself to the commoner types of water vegetation, but even so its utility can scarcely be doubted.

The herbarium has been enriched by the presentation of some 634 sheets, including two new species of Impatiens from Madras and about 46 duplicates from the United States National Museum, Washington. The bulk of the receipts, however, comprise Malayan duplicates of which use has been made for further distribution and for replacement of existing cabinet material.

Distribution has been handicapped by the retrenchment of Government of India collectors on whom the herbarium was wont to rely for the collection and preparation of local material, and also by the enforced curtailment of touring. Nevertheless, some 1,575 specimens have been sent to institutions abroad and individual requirements for plant material in spirit and otherwise, of seeds and of figures copied from the library Icones attended to.

Over 3,000 genera covers were renewed and brought into line in respect of nomenclature with modern monographs dealing with their contents. Co-operation with botanists visiting the herbarium in connection with their general work or on special quests was freely given.

The library is suffering very badly under present conditions. This follows from the precedent of meeting expensive plate publication out of library funds proper. The sequence of only the most essential periodicals was maintained by purchase, and practically no new books outside some presentation copies were obtained. It remains to be seen whether the deficiency will ever be made good, for it is easier to lose library headway than to get the wherewithal to make it good even when there is little room for the plea of financial stringency.

Work on a new library catalogue is well advanced and the collections of books and periodicals carefully maintained.

3. Publications.—Mr. Narayanaswami's work on the Malayan localities of plants mentioned in literature bearing on this part of the world has gone to Press.

The progress of work on illustrations for Sir David Prain and Mr. Burkill's monograph of the Asiatic Dioscoreas has had to be curtailed, but some 20 plates were issued from the Press during the year. The manuscript itself is now in the hands of the printers.

In the press the works of Mr. Biswas, are—"A Review of the Indian Avicennias," "An Oecological note on the vegetation of Lower Burma," "A short note on the systematic position of an Homalium" and "A Census of Indian Algæ." Mr. Badhwar's work on new Indian Mosses is complete in manuscript and Mr. Bal's Catalogue of Medicinal Plants exhibits in the Industrial Section of the Indian Museum has been issued and is under distribution. Some of these are for departmental publication, some for the Botanical Survey and some for outside periodicals.

4. Finance.—Out of a total hudget allotment of Rs. 61,629 for staff and permanent establishment, Rs. 50,754 were spent and under all other heads the expenditure amounted to Rs. 63,329 against the total allotment of Rs. 63,810. Rupees 8,466 were surrendered leaving a net saving of Rs. 2,890 under various heads and not available for reappropriation to others. Receipts of the department during the year amounted to Rs. 779.

5. Staff.—The writer held the post of Superintendent throughout the year except for the period from May to November when Mr. Biswas for the first time officiated with ability in addition to his own duties as Curator of the Herbarium. Mr. J. E. Leslie was Curator, Messrs. Jones and Quasim Ali, Assistant Curators, Mr. Joneja, Overseer, and Mr. Gholam Mohiuddin, temporary Overseer. Mr. S. N. Basu held charge at Darjeeling throughout the year. All officers and clerical staff have co-operated in this time of stringency to make the resources available go as far as possible. The office of head clerk was held by Babu Ashutosh Banerji on whom falls an ever-increasing amount of duty in connection with financial returns and who for his readiness to work at any and every time deserves special commendation.

CALCUTTA GARDENS.

Work in these gardens was again mainly of a routine character. The seed for the beds of flowering annuals came from the same stock as used for the Royal Botanic Garden and gave similar results.

For pot plants better selected seed was employed, and the same practice of staging out potted groups followed as at Sibpur.

The triangular plot of shrubs facing the High Court was this year converted into a flower bed with a view to enhancing first effects on visitors entering the garden by this gate. The gardens occasionally suffer from the crowds that use them as a short cut to the football matches on the maidan, and some 200 feet of hedging had to be made good from this cause. The south entrance to the nursery has been widened to admit a motor lorry for the more economic delivery of material. A new pathway to replace the unsightly footway which the public had made as a short cut to the cricket ground has been constructed near the tennis courts. This concession to destructive practice connotes an effort to do the best possible for this usually untidy section of the garden.

No provision could be found for the garden roads in general this year and only slight departmental repairs and surface dressing was possible. Notice boards and benches in all the three gardens were repaired and repainted.

Some 25 new trees have been planted out, 20 permanent additions to the gardens that had grown large enough to be taken notice of were labelled and 40 new additions made to the plant house.

The general condition of the gardens, and especially the western half of the Eden Garden, showed some improvement in the course of the year.

Finance.—Out of a total budget allotment of Rs. 23,176 under all heads, Rs. 23,059 were spent, Rs. 93 were surrendered under Europe Stores and a small saving of Rs. 24 effected. Receipts credited were Rs. 250 mostly from fishing passes.

LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING.

The monsoon was active giving a total rainfall of almost 126 inches which is in excess of the average. Hours of recorded sunshine prove a very dull year extending over several months. Apart from some special schemes of garden improvement only routine garden maintenance was carried on. For its size the Lloyd Botanic Garden is one of the richest and best in India as the elevation of Darjeeling is not so high as to make the introduction of some of the lower elevation Himalayan species impossible, nor yet too low for the introduction of some of the choice species that find their best development at greater heights. Of special interest this year has been the Curator's success in growing species of Meconopsis. Although inhabitants of the Himalaya, at elevations of 12,000 to 15,000 feet or thereby, these plants do not, as a rule, do so well in local hill gardens as they do as introductions to Europe. Suitable shade and protection from the rain proved what was required this year to secure success. The experiment is of some importance, for there exists in the nurseryman business a steady demand for Meconopsis seed, and the proximity of Darjeeling to the natural habitat of these plants would give this garden an advantage over others if a supply of seed could be grown regularly. The Curator's efforts in a direction to secure this have been praiseworthy.

Darjeeling is seldom exempt for long periods from devastating storms. Hail is common, but a fall to a depth of 12 inches such as occurred at the beginning of April, calls for more than passing reference. Needless to say, it caused destruction in a garden characterised by palms and bamboos that bear it ill as well as by Conifers more habituated to it. But hail can have less destructive effect than over-burdening by snow, and on this occasion it was the seedling beds rather than plants in permanent situations in the open that suffered.

The general appearance of the garden was well maintained and a few attempts at its improvement made. These include the establishment of a rose garden for which local as well as imported stock was utilised and the reconditioning of the garden tank. A rustic appearance has been given to this through an artistic arrangement of rocks and boulders, and a returfing and conditioning of the adjacent lawn rounds off the general effect. Although the scenic effect is not lost thereby, the general arrangement of this garden follows botanical rather than geographic lines, and a stricter conformity with this principle has called for the transference of misplaced plants and shrubs to their appropriate botanical groups. This also was undertaken during the year.

The Azaleas, Camellias and Cherries imported of late are doing so well as to claim the special attention of visitors. Some 400 trees and shrubs were planted out during the year.

Seeds to the number of 2,412 packets, plants 645, seedlings over 12,000 and 136 bulbs were distributed, figures which prove at once a wide knowledge of the distributing service rendered by Darjeeling and of the dimensions of this work. Collections of higher Alpine seeds and plants were made as occasion permitted.

Six wardian cases of Alpine plants for His Majesty's Royal Park were collected and despatched to London and in the course of this work the following seeds were gathered and germinated at the Lloyd Botanic Garden:—Meconopsis Wallichii, Meconopsis nepalensis, Meconopsis paniculata, Cathcartia villosa, Potentilla fruticosa, Swertia tibetica, Swertia multicaulis and some Primulas, Sedums and Anemones.

According to the registers kept by the gate durwans 39,655 people visited this garden during the year.

Finance.—Out of a total budget allotment of Rs. 20,785 there were Rs. 15,967 spent. Rupees 4,649 were surrendered leaving a small saving of Rs. 169.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP, 1932.

Consolidated statement for Bengal, Bihar and Orissa and Assam.

Area.—The revised estimated area for the three provinces is 1,899,300 acres, an increase of 37,500 acres as compared with the revised final forecast for 1931. The total decrease as compared with the acreage in the Preliminary Forecast for 1932, is due to revision in the Bengal and Assam estimates.

Yield.—It is estimated that this crop will yield 5,844,600 bales of jute, exceeding last year's total (revised) by 278,100 bales.

The consolidated returns are as follows:—

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal, 1932.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1930-31, the area under jute in Bengal, to which this forecast relates, represents some 88·3 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Season.—Excepting drought in the early part of the season, sowings were generally carried out under favourable circumstances. During the months of June and July occasional rainfall with alternate sunshine helped the growth of the crop in West and parts of North Bengal. Some injury has been caused by insects.

Condition of the crop.—The crop in parts of East and North Bengal is good. Elsewhere a fair crop is anticipated.

Area of the crop.—The area under jute is 1,633,200 acres as against 1,613,700 acres in 1931.

Outturn.—As in previous years, the percentage figures are calculated on the basis of divisional normals which remain as follows:

	Bales per acre.
Dacca and Chittagong Divisions	... 3·7
Rajshahi Division	... 3·5
Presidency and Burdwan Divisions	... 3·2

The total outturn of the crop is estimated at 5,127,500 bales as compared with 5,002,700 bales last year.

24-Pargannas ..	45,000	42,000	100	94	144,000	126,000	Middle of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute and to propaganda for restriction of cultivation. The fall in outturn is due to unfavourable weather conditions.
Nadia ..	30,000	25,000	100	75	96,000	60,000	Kushlia - Middle of August. Elsewhere—First week of September. Late.	The crop was damaged by insects in Meherpur, Kushlia and Ranaghat subdivisions. Late sowing with continued scanty showers retarded the growth of the crop.

The decrease in area is due to low price and to propaganda for restriction of cultivation. The decrease in yield is due to late sowing on account of the rains coming late and to heavy attack of insect-pests by the middle of July all over the district.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1932.

NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1930-31, the area under jute, to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates, represents about 7·3 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Acreage.—The final district returns of the eight jute-growing districts of the province show an area under jute of 134,800 acres. But these estimates have proved to be very low, and I have no reason to alter the estimate made in the preliminary forecast, viz., 157,000 acres. Last year's estimate of the area under the crop was 148,800 acres.

Weather conditions.—In March light rain fell in Cuttack and Balasore. There was no rain in the remaining jute districts. The fall was below the normal in these two districts. In April light rain fell in all the jute districts. The fall was above the normal everywhere except Champaran, the Santal Parganas and Cuttack. In May light to moderate rain fell in all the jute districts. The fall was below the normal everywhere except Balasore. In June rain fell in all the districts, the fall being below the normal everywhere except in Champaran and Darbhanga. In July light rain fell in all the jute districts. The fall was below the normal everywhere except Cuttack and Balasore. In August rain fell in all the districts, the fall being below the normal everywhere except Bhagalpur and the Santal Parganas. The weather conditions are reported to have not been favourable in the most important jute district of Purnea and also in Champaran and Darbhanga and fair in the remaining jute districts.

Outturn.—In the important jute districts of Purnea and Cuttack the outturn of the crop has been estimated at 50 and 81 per cent. of the normal respectively. Champaran reports 95 per cent., Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, the Santal Parganas and Balasore report 70, 58, 50, 65 and 71 per cent., respectively.

On the basis of the area and percentage outturn reported by the District Officers the average condition of this year's crop for the province comes to 56 per cent. against 55 per cent. last year. But, in my opinion, this is an underestimate, and the condition factor will not be less than 78 per cent. of the normal. Recent enquiries about the normal outturn per acre show that the normal outturn per acre is $3\frac{1}{3}$ bales, and on this basis the gross outturn on 157,000 acres estimated to be under jute in this province comes to 408,200 bales against 342,200 bales last year. The import of jute from Nepal estimated at 25,000 bales brings the total of the province to 433,200 bales.

Owing to scanty rainfall the outturn is expected to be normal at Bettiah and a little below normal at Sadar. There has been no change in the area since the submission of the preliminary forecast.
	Muzaffarpur	1,934,630	1,627,000	2,700	4,000	3,300	75	70	9,000	6,940	Not yet begun	The condition of the crop is good.
	Darbhanga	2,142,720	1,677,800	1,600	312	1,291	68	58	636	2,246	Middle of September	The weather and rainfall have not been favourable. The prospect of the crop is fair. The decrease in percentage outturn is due to scanty rainfall and increase in area as compared with the first forecast is due to inclusion of the figure reported by the Subdivisional Officer of Madhubani.
Bhagalpur	Bhagalpur	2,661,120	1,634,100	2,700	2,075	1,924	60	50	3,735	2,886	Middle of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to fall in prices.
	Purnea	3,196,160	1,694,400	178,600	120,000	106,100	50	50	199,800	176,656	End of July. Late	The weather and rainfall on the whole have not been favourable to the growth of the crop. At places sowing was late. The harvesting which is delayed has commenced. Insufficient rain for purposes of steeping and washing is preventing harvest in major portion of the district. The area shown though apparently below that of last year is not so. The figures collected last year gave a total of 100,000 acres. This was raised so far as I can see by the then Collector. This year's figures are based on those supplied by the Police. The area is over 6,000 acres more than in the last year. The increase is due to expectation of better return in jute than in food crops.
	Santal Parganas	3,500,800	1,717,900	1,000	500	500	65	65	975	975	Not yet commenced	The condition of the crop is good.

	Balasore	1,334,400	982,200	2,600	2,400	2,000	60	71	4,320	4,260	Not yet begun	The general prospect of the crop is fair.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Assam, 1932.

[NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1930-31, the area under jute in Assam represents 5·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Season.—The weather in the early part of the season was generally favourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop, but subsequently heavy rains followed by floods caused considerable damage, especially in the lower parts of the Assam Valley. The estimated outturn therefore is considerably less than was anticipated when the preliminary forecast was issued.

2. Area.—As estimated by the Deputy Commissioners, the area under jute is 109,100 acres as compared with last year's actual area of 99,300 acres and this year's preliminary forecast of 107,100 acres. The areas reported in the preliminary forecast have been revised in five districts.

3. Outturn.—The outturn per acre has been estimated to be 74 per cent. of the normal against 57 per cent. of last year. Taking 3·5 bales of 400 lbs. each of jute fibre as the normal yield per acre, the total produce of the province this year amounts to 283,900 bales against 196,600 bales (revised) of last year, or an increase of 44 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Assam.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.			Bales.	Bales.
Cachar ..	200	200	300	60	80	100	800	Middle of August. Early.	The increase in area is due to favourable weather at sowing time. The heavy rainfall in June and July encouraged the growth of weeds and consequently the yield is below normal.
Sylhet ..	15,000	5,000	9,100	38	90	6,000	28,700	July. Early ..	Favourable weather conditions at sowing time account for the increase in area. The weather was on the whole favourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop, but slight damage was done by sudden rise of water in June in low lying areas.
Goalpara ..	60,000	35,300	30,100	45	60	55,600	75,800	End of July. Normal.	Since the issue of the preliminary forecast the crop has been considerably damaged by flood in low lying areas and hence the comparatively low outturn.
Kamrup ..	28,000	19,100	18,900	54	75	36,100	49,600	Middle of August. Normal.	The weather has not been very favourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop owing to drought at sowing time followed by heavy rainfall. Some damage was also done by flood in June.
Darrang ..	12,600	13,700	12,200	75	75	30,000	32,000	Middle of July. Early.	The decrease in area is due partly to unfavourable weather at sowing time and partly to the low price of jute. The weather on the whole has not been favourable for the crop and some damage has also been caused by flood and insects.
Nowgong ..	50,000	20,400	26,400	65	90	46,400	83,200	Beginning of July. Early.	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. The weather has been generally favourable for the growth of the crop but some damage was done by the rise of the Brahmaputra in the latter part of June, and also by insects in places.
Sibsagar ..	400	400	300	80	85	1,100	800	Middle of August. Normal.	Unfavourable weather conditions at sowing time account for the decrease in area. The weather on the whole was not very favourable for the crop, and flood also caused some damage.
Lakhimpur ..	1,000	900	800	75	85	2,400	2,400	First week of September. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather at sowing time. Subsequently the crop suffered from heavy rains and some damage was caused by flood.
Garo (Plains), Hills	5,000	4,300	5,000	80	60	12,000	10,500	Early August. Normal.	The increase in area is due to favourable weather at sowing time. The weather was generally favourable but flood in the early part of July caused severe damage to the crop, and hence the low estimated outturn.

Resolution on the Triennial Report on the Administration of the Registration Department in Bengal for the years 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Registration.

CALCUTTA, THE 9TH SEPTEMBER, 1932.

RESOLUTION No. 603 Regn.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. K. Nazim-ud-Din, C.I.E.

Read—

The Triennial Report on the Administration of the Registration Department in Bengal for the years 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Rai J. N. Ray Bahadur, i.s.o., was in charge of the department until his retirement on the 16th June 1931, when Khan Sahib Maulvi Shamsuddin Ahmed was appointed Inspector-General.

2. The administration and work of the department were considerably affected by the Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act, IV of 1928, which came into force in April 1929, and provided for the payment at the time of registration of landlords' transfer fees in respect of occupancy holdings: this change also involved the maintenance, in the various registration offices, of separate accounts of expenditure in connection with the transmission of these fees.

Other legislative measures, which affected the Registration Department, were the amendments of the Indian Registration Act, XVI of 1908, and the Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882; the former resulted in the discontinuance of duplicate indexes with effect from 2nd January 1930, while the latter required the execution by lessor and lessee alike of all non-agricultural leases.

3. From June 1931 a new procedure was adopted in Calcutta, Howrah and the 24-Parganas in connection with the departmental system of control of accounts for reconciling the discrepancies in the figures of expenditure. This is now done by means of personal collaboration between the clerks of the offices concerned and the auditors of the Accounts office. The change has already resulted in a considerable saving of time and correspondence.

4. Free use has been made of the provisions of section 35 of the Indian Registration Act and selected Sub-Registrars stationed at subdivisional headquarters were vested with powers to enquire into the question of execution, where the execution of a document is denied.

5. The three years under review showed a consistent falling off in the number of registrations. Compulsory registration affecting immovable property decreased by 34·8 per cent. and optional registration by 23·7 per cent. Other registrations, which include all registrations not affecting immovable property, wills and written authorities to adopt, decreased by 19·2 per cent. The total number of registrations in Books 1, 3 and 4 during the triennium was 3,850,414 against 5,796,589 in the preceding triennium, showing a decrease of 33·5 per cent. The receipts of the department for the period amounted to nearly Rs. 82 lakhs and the expenditure to about Rs. 56 lakhs, leaving a surplus of approximately Rs. 26 lakhs. The number of offices that worked at a deficit rose from 45 in 1929 to 113 in 1930 and 228 in 1931. The heavy fall in registration is attributed to the low prices of jute in particular and the economic depression generally.

There were 415 offices open at the end of 1931 as against 418 at the beginning of 1929.

6. The unsuitability of many of the buildings now used as offices and quarters has long been recognised but the financial stringency has prevented any progress being made with the programme of construction. For the same reason the provision of record room racks and the binding of registers have had to be postponed.

7. The total number of appeals under section 72 of the Indian Registration Act, XVI of 1908, and applications under section 73 of the Act disposed of during these three years was 3,949 against 5,846 in the previous triennium. The number of prosecutions instituted under section 83 of the Registration Act for offences under section 82 (a) to (d) of the Act was 67 against a total of 100 during the preceding period. In the cases disposed of 44 persons were convicted, of whom 35 were punished on charges relating to false statements and 9 for false personation and its abetment.

The Inspector of Registration Offices inspected 102 offices. District Registrars made 345 inspections, Sadar Sub-Registrars 1,567 and Subdivisional Officers 152 during the triennium.

Government (Ministry of Education) desire to acknowledge, with thanks, the efficient administration of the department by Rai J. N. Ray Bahadur i.s.o., and Khan Sahib Maulvi Shamsuddin Ahmed.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the resolution, together with the report, be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ADDENDA AND CORRIGENDA.

No. 4365F.—17th September 1932.—The following corrections, which have been authorised, are published for general information:—

Fundamental and Subsidiary Rules, 1st Edition (Reprint), 1929.

Page 50.—S.R. 67.—For item (2) in the note under this rule, substitute the following:—

(2) Government servants in Eastern Bengal, who are Fellows of the Calcutta University, attending meetings of the Senate, Faculties, and the Boards of Studies of the University.

S. R. 67.—Number the existing note under this rule as "1" and insert the following as note 2:—

NOTE 2.—In the following cases, the absences have been declared as "absence on duty"; but the travelling allowance is permitted to be drawn from the funds of the Calcutta University at the rates admissible under their rules:—

(i) Government servants in Western Bengal, who are Fellows of the University, attending meetings of the Senate, Faculties, and the Boards of Studies of the University.

(ii) Government servants appointed by the University to inspect educational institutions or to conduct examination in practical subjects on behalf of the University.

Page 21—F. R. '22.—Delete the audit instruction under this rule.

Audit Instruction.—The question has been raised whether the value of the site should be excluded in calculating the additional rent payable under Fundamental Rule 45A-VI for the special services referred to therein. Clause II of Fundamental Rule 45A definitely excludes the cost of site from the calculation of ordinary rent, with the object inter alia that there should be no inequality in rents merely on account of site values. Inequalities of the same kind and due to the same cause would, however, arise if the rent charged for special services included the cost of site. Ordinarily, houses of the class affected by the rule in question already have a compound large enough to accommodate the special service. If the house had no special service provided, no rent would be payable for the site; and it would not be reasonable to commence to charge rent for site, because of the provision of a special service in cases where the site remains the same. The Governor in Council has therefore decided that in the case of officers in the services under his control and those whose control has been retained by the Secretary of State in Council the value of the site should be excluded in calculating the rent of special services under Fundamental Rule 45A-VI.

Page 20—F. R. 22 as amended by correction slip No. 80.—Insert the following under this rule:—

Audit Instruction.—The benefits of rule 22 should be allowed in cases in which the occasion for fixation of pay of a Government servant arises on or after the date of effect of the revised rule i.e., the 18th March 1930. They are not admissible in cases in which the occasion arose before the 18th March 1930, but the question of fixation of pay was actually taken up after that date.

Page 180—F. R. 107.—In the Audit Instruction as amended by correction slip No. 256—

(1) for the words "a permanent post" in clause (i) substitute the words "a post which he holds substantively" and

(2) for the words "an officiating post" in clause (ii) substitute the words "a post which he has held in an officiating capacity."

Page 174—F. R. 105 (c).—Number the existing Audit Instruction introduced by correction slip No. 20 as (1) and insert the following as paragraph (2):—

Joining time under Fundamental Rule 105 (c) is admissible to military officers in civil employ on their return from military furlough out of India.

When a Government servant is appointed to officiate in a post on a time-scale of pay but has his pay fixed below the minimum of the time-scale under Fundamental Rule 35, he must not be treated as having effectually officiated in that post within the meaning of Fundamental Rule 22, or having rendered duty in it within the meaning of Fundamental Rule 26. Such an officer, on confirmation, should have his initial pay fixed under Fundamental Rule 22 (b) and draw the next increment after he has put in duty for the usual period required calculated from the date of his confirmation.

B. L. SUBARWAL,

Personal Assistant to the Chief Engineer to the Government of Bengal.

Calcutta, the 13th September 1932.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 16th September 1932.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for August 1932.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review, the rainfall was above the normal in fourteen districts, while elsewhere it was below the average. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Harvesting of autumn paddy, cutting, steeping and washing of jute were progressing favourably, but more rain was needed to facilitate the transplanting operation of winter paddy in parts of North and West Bengal during the first part of the month.

III. State of standing crops.—More rain is urgently needed for the growth and development of winter rice already transplanted. The present condition, so far, is not promising, on the whole.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—As a result of weak monsoon prospects of transplanted winter rice are likely to be threatened. Everything depends upon the strengthening of monsoon till October. The outturn of sugarcane is expected to be favourable.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Some damage was caused to jute by insects in parts of West and North Bengal.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was, on the whole, fair. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease, were, however, reported from twelve districts of the Province and from the States of Cooch-Bihar and Tripura.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—No insufficiency of fodder was reported from any part of the province.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month, the retail prices of common rice of the cheapest quality rose in five districts, fell in eleven and remained stationary in the rest of the Presidency. The prices varied from 15½ seers per rupee in Midnapur to 10 seers in Howrah, Darjeeling, Noakhali and the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population is not satisfactory owing to the fall in the prices of jute and other staples. Distress prevailed in parts of Pabna, where relief works continued.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Council Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 431.C.—22nd September, 1932.—In pursuance of the provisions of rule 20 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, the following Bill, which was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 7th September, 1932, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto.

THE BENGAL MONEY-LENDERS BILL, 193 .

WHEREAS it is expedient to frame better laws relating to money-lending, to make better provisions for the control of usury, to give additional powers to courts to deal with usurious loans in the Presidency of Bengal;

Be it hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called Bengal Money-lending Act of 193 .

2. It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government may, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint on this behalf.

3. The provisions of this Act extend by its own operation to the whole of Bengal except the town of Calcutta and the scheduled districts specified in Part III of the 1st Schedule to the Scheduled Districts Act of 1874 :

Provided that the Local Government may, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, exclude any municipality constituted under the provisions of the Bengal Municipal Act of 1884 and the provisions of this Act shall not thereupon apply to loans granted to non-agriculturists residing within such municipal areas :

Provided further that the Local Government may, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend the provisions of this Act or any part of it to any of the aforesaid scheduled districts or any part thereof.

Explanations.—The provisions of this Act shall apply to all loans granted to agriculturists residing within municipal areas even when such areas are excluded under the first proviso of this section.

4. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context :—

“ Prescribed ” means prescribed by rules made by the Local Government under this Act.

“ Usury ” means any rate of interest on any term wherefrom is accrued a profit above $37\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum.

5. Every money-lender, whether carrying on business alone or as a partner in a firm, shall take out annually in respect of every district within which he carries on his money-lending business a license, hereinafter referred to as money-lender's license.

6. (a) The District Magistrate within the limits of whose jurisdiction a money-lender fixes his address shall grant a money-lender's license, on application made to him in prescribed form and on payment of rupees ten as license fee. Such license shall be valid for one year and may be renewed on payment of annual license fee of rupees ten.

(b) Where a money-lender takes out license from a District Magistrate for carrying on money-lending business within a district, such licenses may be endorsed by any other District Magistrate or Magistrates on payment of rupees ten as license fee for each district.

7. No person shall carry on money-lending business within the local limits of a District Magistrate's jurisdiction without having in force a duly authorised money-lender's license granted or endorsed by such District Magistrate and no such person shall be entitled to sue for or recover any sum due as principal or interest from any debtor residing within the local limits of such Magistrate's jurisdiction and who has taken loans from such money-lending business.

The Bengal Money-Lenders Bill, 1932

(Clauses 8-14.)

8. The provisions of sections V, VI and VII shall not apply to any person carrying on money-lending business within a district if such person is a permanent resident or has his permanent domicile within the district, nor shall the provisions of these sections apply to societies, companies or firms or body corporate registered under the Indian Companies Act or Co-operative Society Act.

9. A money-lender's certificate shall not be refused except where the Magistrate has satisfactory evidence that the applicant is a habitual usurer or where he has failed to maintain necessary or prescribed money-lending papers properly or where he has been declared by a court to have been guilty of fraud, forgery or cheating.

10. Any contract made after the commencement of this Act for the loan of money by a money-lender shall be illegal in so far as it provides directly or indirectly for the payment of compound interest or for the rate or amount of interest being increased by reason of any default in the payment of sums due under the contract:

Provided that provision may be made by any such contract that if default is made in the payment upon the due date of any sum payable to the money-lender under the contract, whether in respect of principal or interest, the money-lender shall be entitled to charge simple interest on that sum from the date of default until the sum is paid, at a rate not exceeding the rate payable in respect of the principal apart from any default, and any interest so charged shall not be reckoned for the purposes of this Act as part of the interest charged in respect of the loan.

11. Every money-lender shall be bound to supply the debtor with informations concerning his loan in a prescribed form.

12. Any debtor requiring information under section XI may apply to the Subdivisional Magistrate, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction, the debtor resides and shall deposit sum of annas eight in prescribed manner along with a postal registration fee of annas four and the Subdivisional Magistrate shall thereupon serve a registered notice on the creditor requiring him to file the informations in prescribed form within a fortnight from receipt of such registered notice. On receipt of this statement, the Subdivisional Magistrate shall forthwith pay the sum of annas eight to the creditor and shall make over the statement to the debtor.

13. If a money-lender to whom a demand has been made in accordance with the provisions of section XI fails without reasonable excuse to comply therewith within a fortnight after the receipt of demand notice, he shall not, so long as the default continues, be entitled to sue for or recover any sum due under the contract on account either of principal or of interest and interest shall not be chargeable on the principal in respect of the period of default.

14. Where in any suit in respect of any money lent by a money-lender after the commencement of the Usurious Loans Act of 1918 or in respect of any agreement or contract made after the commencement of this Act, it is found that (a) the interest charged exceeds the rate of $37\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum or (b) the total amount of interest outstanding exceeds the principal, the court shall, unless the contrary is proved, presume for the purpose of section 3 of the Usurious Loans Act of 1918, that the interest charged is excessive and that the transaction is harsh and unconscionable and was substantially unfair, but this provision shall be without prejudice to the powers of the court under that section where the court is satisfied that the interest charged, although not exceeding $37\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum, is excessive.

The Bengal Money-Lenders Bill, 1932

(Clauses 15-19.)

15. On or after the commencement of this Act, any contract or agreement in respect of any loan stipulating a rate of interest exceeding $18\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum in cases of secured loans and exceeding $37\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. in cases of unsecured loans shall be illegal in so far as it provides for interest exceeding that rate.

16. Any person habitually carrying on money-lending at usurious rates shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees or with both.

17. A borrower may apply in prescribed manner to the Subdivisional Magistrate holding local jurisdiction for a notice being served upon a money-lender to supply a copy of any document relating to a loan made by him to the borrower and the money-lender shall thereupon either on receipt of such notice file a copy of the document or file the original of the document before the Subdivisional Magistrate for copy being made from the office of the Magistrate in prescribed manner.

The borrower shall be liable to pay all reasonable expenses for copying to the creditor when he files such copy :

Provided that the provisions of this Act shall not apply where the document is duly registered under the Indian Registration Act.

18. If a money-lender fails without reasonable excuse to supply the copy of the document or file the original, or fails to supply the terms of the contract of the loan and other material informations concerning the loans where the document is not in his possession, he shall not, so long as the default continues, be entitled to sue for or recover any sum due under the contract on account of either principal or interest and interest shall not be chargeable on the principal in respect of the period of default.

19. Any borrower may apply in prescribed manner to the lowest civil court having jurisdiction over the place where he resides for permission to transmit any money due as principal or interest or any part thereof through the court and the court shall grant such application on payment of prescribed cost of transmission and transmit the money in prescribed form to the money-lender, or keep such money in deposit if the creditor refuses to accept such money.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to place a definite check to the harsh and unconscionable loans carrying interest at usurious rates, and to prevent the civil courts being used for the purpose of enforcing such rates. The subject has engaged the attention of Government from time to time. The amendments of the Indian Contract Act in 1899 in spite of conferring on the civil courts equitable jurisdiction within a limited scope, proved to be fully inefficacious. The Usurious Loans Act (X of 1918) was passed closely following the provisions of section I of the English Money-lenders Act of 1900 (63 and 64 Vict. C 51). The Act has been in force for the last 12 years, but the consensus of informed opinion is that it is inoperative and has failed to give the relief that it was intended to afford.

It is interesting to note here that the early English statutes had also been inefficacious in giving relief to the victims of the usurers and series of Acts had to be enacted in Great Britain, the most important being the Money-lenders Act of 1927 (17 and 18 Geo. V. Chap. 21). Various salutary provisions were enacted such as abolition of compound interest, fixing the maximum rates of interest recoverable in courts, the fixity of rate where the court shall presume the transaction to be harsh and unconscionable unless proved to the contrary.

The Royal Commission on Agriculture recorded that in every province an inquiry should be made into the causes of the failure of the Usurious Loans Act. The Provincial Banking Inquiry Committee was requested by the Government of Bengal to make such an inquiry and startling facts came to the notice of the Committee as to the prevalence of usury in this presidency and the way in which civil courts have to be parties to high unconscionable rates. It also came to notice that shameless extortions are done in the name of money-lending by a class of money-lenders who are not natives of the soil and who generally believe in the Law of the Lathi and are now a growing menace to the people of this presidency.

The report of the Provincial Banking Inquiry Committee is illuminating on all these points and it is not necessary to make any detailed references to concrete cases.

The object of the present Bill is—

- (1) to make registration compulsory for all money-lenders who are not permanent residents nor have permanent domiciles ;
- (2) to abolish compound interest ;
- (3) to make a clear provision which the courts shall follow in determining excessive interest and harsh and unconscionable transactions in giving effect to the provisions of the Usurious Loans Act of 1918 and thereby supplement the provisions of this Act ;
- (4) to make a debtor know all informations regarding his loans ;
- (5) to fix maximum rates of interest for secured and unsecured loans ;
- (6) to make habitual usury a penal offence ; and
- (7) to empower courts to take tender of money, for loans as interest or principal. Provisions have been made by which Local Government is empowered to exclude municipalities from the operation of the Act with a view to leave industrial finance unaffected by the provisions of the Bill, while all agricultural finance shall always come within the scope of the Bill.

The Bill is mainly to give relief to the agriculturists and labourers and the city of Calcutta is excluded by the Act.

In drafting this Bill I have followed the recommendations of the Bengal Banking Inquiry Committee and have drawn largely from the English Money-lenders Act of 1927.
